COURT CURB ON FAUBUS IS SOUGHT

State Asked To Take Hand In County's School Problems

Two requests for intervention in Fayette County's six-year-old awaiting action by the Ohio Board of Education.

One of the requests made in a Citizens' Committee minority report signed by Ray Brandenburg, Walter F. Rettig and Edward J. Cunningham, who represent the Washington C. H. school district on the committee.

The report, which was delivered to E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, Monday morning, reviewed procedures of the Citizens' Committee and cited opposition of the six majority members, representing the county and Miami Trace school districts, to territory transfers to the city district and stated that although the committee had met with representatives of three survey organizations (Ohio State, Miami and Akron universities), "all efforts to determine the type and scope of survey and/or agency to make it were defeated by the majority."

THE OTHER request was in the form of a petition to the state board. The petition, said to bear the signatures of "around 40 residents of every political subdivision of the county," was submitted to the board just before its meeting Monday night by a delegation of 15 proponents of an overall school survey, for which Charles A. Fabb acted as spokesman.

The position of the petitioners in requesting a study and survey and a recommendation for consolidation of the school districts (there are only two) in the county was stated in the preamble:

"We, the undersigned electors within and of one of the established school districts within Fayette County, Ohio, which is comprised of the following school districts—Miami Trace Local School District and Washington C. H. City School District do hereby petition your honorable State Department of Education to conduct a study and survey the needs and recommend proposals for the consolidation of the school districts of the county or transfer of school territory in accordance with the provisions of sections 3311.37 and 3311.38 of the revised code of Ohio as provided by law at as early a date as is possible and withhold any action of approval for transfer of territory in Fayette County until such time as your studies are completed."

About a half dozen Miami Trace partisans were at the meeting, but none commented.

A brief supporting the petition was presented to Francis Spicer, a member of the state board of education and chairman of a committee that is expected to make a study of the two requests for intervention in the controversy by the state board.

A copy of this brief was not available, it was said by the petitioners and would not be until it is released by the committee of state board.

FABB, as spokesman for the petitioners, told the board "We feel that with only 5,000 students altogether (in both districts), consolidation into just one district would mean considerable saving, with just one school board and one superintendent."

He also voiced opposition to all territory transfers until the state board makes a study of the possibility of establishing a single school district for the entire county.

Pending before the state board is a proposal by the Citizens' Committee, endorsed by the Fayette County School Board, to transfer the Belle Aire subdivision in the southern part of the city to the Miami Trace school district and at the same time transferring 840 acres of farm land adjoining the city on the east from the Miami

Trace district to the city district. The transfer of the Belle Aire area is opposed by 92.4 per cent of the voters in the affected area in petitions that have been filed with the state board. This transfer controversy was involved only indirectly in the requests for a study and survey of the whole situation by the state board.

Supt. Holt did not say what the state Department of Education would do regarding this proposal.

Citizens' Committee Minority Report Made

A request that the state Board of Education "conduct an investigation of the organizational or transfer problems of the school districts of Fayette County" was made in a minority report by representatives of the Washington C. H. district on the Citizens' Committee which was delivered to the state superintendent of public instruction, E. E. Holt, Monday.

The report, signed by Ray Brandenburg, Walter F. Rettig and Edward J. Cunningham, follows: "The following constitutes a report to you and to the State Board of Education from the minority membership of the Fayette County Citizens' Committee, Fayette County, Ohio.

"The Fayette County Citizens' Committee was established last February following litigation in the Court of Fayette County. At the conclusion of this case, the County Superintendent, under oath, stated that he would recommend that a Citizens' Committee be formed to investigate and to recommend a survey of the entire Fayette County school situation by an outside, qualified survey agency.

"The Miami Trace Local Board of Education and the Washington Court House City Board of Education both passed resolutions calling for the same type of investigation under the auspices of the Citizens' Committee, and stated their determination to finance such a survey.

"The Citizens' Committee held meetings with representatives of the survey organizations of The Ohio State University, Miami University, and Akron University.

"Following the presentations by the above agencies, all efforts to determine the type and scope of survey and/or agency to make it were defeated by the majority, the members of which implied or stated that each of these groups was, or would be, less than impartial toward Miami Trace and would favor the city.

"All attempts to start a sound approach to the situation were defeated by the organized majority.

"At no time from its organization to its last meeting date, August 22, 1957, did the Citizens' Committee discuss, evaluate or consider any plan of territory transfer or reorganization—until a board to transfer territory, but indicated the transfers would not solve anything. He said: "If we should approve the report (for territory transfers) now before us, it would mean a perennial problem in transportation of pupils with the cost paid by the state."

However, the board did approve the transfer of 1,308 acres of Mathews property on N. North St. from the Miami Trace district to the city district.

Syria Chiefs Eye U. S. 'Aggression'

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's Cabinet was summoned into an urgent session today as the nation's press demanded nationwide mobilization to meet what it called the threat of U. S. aggression.

Official sources said the purpose of the session was to study what they described as "U. S. anti-Syrian provocations" and to decide Syria's course of action against it.

The meeting was called on the heels of a Syrian charge that five U. S. warships steamed to the Syrian coast on Sunday.

Foreign minister Salah Bitar told Syrian newspapers this country "will not be terrorized by U. S. military demonstrations or any American war of nerves."

"Neither military demonstrations or a U. S. war of nerves will make us deviate from our Arab liberation policy. On the contrary, these acts will certainly bolster our determination to adhere to our

Nashville Integrated School Blasted; 5 Men Questioned

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A massive dynamite blast wrecked the newly integrated half million dollar Hattie Cotton elementary school here early today and hours later police arrested five men for questioning.

Three of the men were seized by Asst. Police Chief F. W. Muller when they refused to move from the vicinity of another grammar school which, like the dynamited one, was among six where white and Negro first graders went to classes for the first time Monday.

One of the other two arrested was a brother of one of the first three arrested.

THE OFFICERS said they found at the home of the two seized by Cobb and Searcy 50 feet of wire of a type used with the explosives which wrecked Cotton School.

Police said one of the two 'is a suspect we'd been looking for all night.'

The first three arrested were charged with unlawful possession of weapons and ordered held under bonds of $25,000 each. They were booked as Vernon Albert Crimmons, 32; James R. Harris, 47; and J. B. Blackwell, 42.

The other two arrested, identified as Carol Crimmons, brother of Vernon, and W. D. Hodge, were charged with vagrancy and held under $250 bonds each.

Hearing for the five men, all of whom live outside the city limits, was set for Wednesday afternoon in City Court.

Muller said that in the car of the first three men arrested he found dynamite detonating device, a heavily weighted billy club with "KKK" carved on the handle, two heavy wooden mallets and a length of wire of the type used in setting off explosives.

The car itself, Muller said, was plastered with numerous "KKK" signs.

The three men taken into custody were reported to have been seen Monday at all of the city grammar schools where there were violent anti-segregation demonstrations.

Muller added that the three also had been seen at rallies held here by John Kasper, New Jersey-born segregationist.

He said he would even be willing to meet with anyone "one" to seek a solution to the bitter struggle over integrating high schools in the Little Rock area.

Meanwhile, Faubus said "I would be willing to meet with anyone" to seek a solution to the bitter struggle over integrating high schools in the Little Rock area.

Miller did not reveal the nature of the order. The judge last night asked federal attorneys to prepare the petition for a restraining order.

If the judge grants the petition, as he is expected to, Faubus and the Guard will be called before the court for a temporary injunction hearing under normal procedures, legal authorities said. At that time, the judge may set a date for a hearing to make the injunction permanent.

HE ALSO said "I have a very strong feeling" that Federal District Judge Ronald N. Davies was specifically selected by federal authorities and sent to Little Rock to stand by earlier integration orders. Davies is from North Dakota.

Asked if he felt his representatives had presented enough evidence to the FBI to support his action in calling out the Guard, he replied, "Sufficient to persuade any reasonable man."

FEHR, which is located in a borderline Negro-white residential district, was the focal point of much of Monday's disorders. Three persons were arrested in the day and night disturbances, including one woman who was arrested twice.

Police Sgt. John Irwin said he found a detonating cap wire at the scene. He said the dynamite apparently was exploded in the school's entrance hall between the library and a classroom.

The concussion ripped through the building, tearing down walls and blasting every window from the one-story structure.

Asst. Supt. W. H. Oliver had this comment immediately on learning of the blast: "This is no longer a matter of segregation or desegregation. This is a matter of sheer lawlessness."

THE PHILLIPS evacuation followed swiftly after police broke up a noisy anti-integration demonstration at Woodlawn High, in the eastern area.

About 75 to 100 Woodlawn students made up a shouting throng as they refused to attend classes. Some yelled "No Negroes will get by us." Police threatened to turn a fire hose on them and they marched away from the school.

A score or more of the Woodlawn demonstrators shortly appeared at Phillips, some three miles away, and were turned away by police.

As the 9:30 a.m. deadline for the bomb passed without incident, police entered the Phillips building and began a methodical search of the building.

TOLEDO (AP)—The 17-year-old daughter of a Lutheran minister was knifed and beaten Monday night in an alley near her home.

The girl, Linda Berger, told police she was attacked from behind by three Negro youths as she was walking to a drug store to buy school supplies.

She said the three dragged her into the alley and attacked her with knives and fists.

Miss Berger was found by two other youths shortly after the attack. She was taken to Mercy Hospital with wounds of the stomach and legs. Attendants say her condition is fair.

Arkansas Governor
Accepts Summons for Hearing on Sept. 20

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A U. S. marshal passed through the main gate of the governor's mansion today with an order directing Gov. Orval Faubus to appear in U. S. District Court Sept. 20.

Troops guarding the mansion opened the gates for the officer.

The summons ordered the governor and two subordinates to come to court for a hearing on the issuance of a preliminary injunction restraining him from further interfering with enrollment of Negro students at Little Rock Central High School.

A federal authority said he understood the governor had agreed to answer summons but there was no confirmation from Faubus.

The marshal walked through the gate alone. Gov. Faubus came out and accepted the summons.

Named with Faubus were Arkansas Adj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, who carried out the governor's orders to put the school off limits to Negroes, and Lt. Col. Marion E. Johnson, head of the Guard detachment stationed at the school.

Meanwhile, Faubus said "I would be willing to meet with anyone" to seek a solution to the bitter struggle over integrating high schools in the Little Rock area.

attacking Faubus' action were Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Harriman was one of the governors to whom Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts had proposed that a bipartisan committee of governors be named to seek a solution of the integration problem in Little Rock.

Furcolo said he made the proposal to Faubus, Harriman, Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D-Mich.), Gov. George Leader (D-Pa.), Gov. Orville L. Freeman (D-Minn.), Gov. William G. Stratton (R-Ill.), Gov. Thomas B. Stanley (D-Va.) and presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Leader commended the plan but declined to serve due to the pressure of his schedule. Leader had no immediate comment on the Little Rock situation.

Mediators Renewing Effort To Resolve Ohio Bell Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP)—Federal mediators renewed efforts today to break a deadlock in contract negotiations between Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers Union.

Ohio Bell has made what it calls a final offer. The union rejected the proposal which, they said, would set the pattern for other contracts in the Bell system.

A meeting for today was arranged by mediators who met separately with company and union representatives Monday.

Monday's meetings produced "absolutely no progress," according to Martin J. Hughes, Ohio CWA director. He had said that any meetings with the company would be useless unless they improved their offer.

The old contract expired Saturday and a strike set for Sunday was delayed. Members agreed to stay on the job pending the outcome of negotiations between Western Electric Co. and CWA installers in New York.

OF THE 18,600 Ohio Bell employees only 115 at Ironton went on strike Sunday. The Ironton local refused to work without an agreement. At a meeting Monday they agreed to continue their walkout.

Supervisory employees manned the switchboards but telephone service was hampered.

Placed before the union is a company offer of a 15-month contract providing a pay raise of $2.50-$5 weekly or a one-year agreement with a $2-$4.50 weekly raise.

"We will not accept a 15-month contract," Hughes said, "and the 12-month contract is inadequate."

New York negotiations between CWA installers and Western Electric also were stalemated. The installers seek a 22-cent hourly wage package and fringe benefits. A threatened strike would affect 44 states, including Ohio.

If the installers walk out, so will Ohio Bell, Hughes said. Both companies are subsidiaries of American Telephone and Telegraph.

A joint strike, Hughes said, would improve CWA's negotiating position.

However, he added, "If we can reach an agreement here with Ohio Bell prior to any Western Electric deadline we will."

"But we will go on strike at any time Western Electric goes out."

No strike deadline has been set in the New York negotiations but one will be announced in the immediate future, Hughes said.

State Asked To Take Hand In County's School Problems

Two requests for intervention in Fayette County's six-year-old awaiting action by the Ohio Board of Education.

One of the requests made in a Citizens' Committee minority report signed by Ray Brandenburg, Walter F. Rettig and Edward J. Cunningham, who represent the Washington C. H. school district on the committee.

Ohio Bell has made what it calls a final offer. The union rejected the proposal which, they said, would set the pattern for other contracts in the Bell system.

A meeting for today was arranged by mediators who met separately with company and union representatives Monday.

Monday's meetings produced "absolutely no progress," according to Martin J. Hughes, Ohio CWA director. He had said that any meetings with the company would be useless unless they improved their offer.

The old contract expired Saturday and a strike set for Sunday was delayed. Members agreed to stay on the job pending the outcome of negotiations between Western Electric Co. and CWA installers in New York.

OF THE 15,000 Ohio Bell employees only 115 at Ironton went on strike Sunday. The Ironton local refused to work without an agreement. At a meeting Monday they agreed to continue their walkout.

Dulles Believes Peace Possible In Syria Fuss

Top U. S. Diplomat
Admits Trouble in Mideast Could Grow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he believes the Syrian situation will be worked out peacefully although there are elements which could lead to serious trouble.

He told a news conference the United States does not believe in peace at any price and under certain circumstances would act, but he did not define the circumstances or indicate the possibilities of action.

Dulles said the Soviet Union is trying to realize Russia's traditional policy—going far back to Czarist days—of gaining control of the Middle East.

Earlier a high official of the U.S. State Department, which Dulles heads, declared that Russia and Syria have been given notice that America is willing and able to meet force with force.

Determination to use American power if it becomes necessary was proclaimed in a major speech Monday by the State Department's third-ranking official, Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy. He addressed the annual conference of U. S. mayors in New York City, saying:

"It would be unwise to underestimate the industrial and military power of our country, and to misinterpret our determination."

Officials said Murphy's speech was deliberately made to set the record straight so there would be no Communist miscalculation that "leading up to this action have

Syria Chiefs Eye U. S. 'Aggression'

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syria's Cabinet was summoned into an urgent session today as the nation's press demanded nationwide mobilization to meet what it called the threat of U.S. aggression.

Official sources said the purpose of the session was to study what they described as "U. S. anti-Syrian provocations" and to decide Syria's course of action against it.

The meeting was called on the heels of a Syrian charge that five U. S. warships steamed to the Syrian coast on Sunday.

Foreign minister Salah Bitar told Syrian newspapers this country "will not be terrorized by U.S. military demonstrations or any American war of nerves."

"Neither military demonstrations or a U.S. war of nerves will make us deviate from our Arab liberation policy. On the contrary, these acts will certainly bolster our determination to adhere to our policy and defend it."

IN MOSCOW, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said Turkish and Israeli forces were moving toward Syrian borders. The paper, quoting unidentified press reports, also said U. S. military units had landed in Turkey to support what it called aggressive moves against Syria.

Meanwhile, Jordan's foreign minister, Samir Rifai, said in Amman that Israel is a far greater threat to Jordan than Syria.

Rifai made the statement in reply to a question whether Jordan was alarmed by recent developments in Syria.

The foreign minister said Jordan does not "feel justified at all in interfering in the internal affairs of Syria."

But, he added, Jordan has been waging war against communism and "will continue to do so regardless of the direction from which it comes, internally or externally."

The charge that U. S. warships approached the Syrian coast was made by a Syrian army spokesman. He added that unidentified jet fighters flew over the Syrian port of Latakia Monday. He said Syria so far had made no protest to Washington.

In Washington, the U. S. Navy said none of its ships is operating close to the Syrian coast. A spokesman said the bulk of the U. S. 6th Fleet is in the Aegean Sea, about 500 miles from Syria.

THE AMERICAN official said some U. S. destroyers might have been cruising in the eastern Mediterranean in recent days, but he asserted none had been in sight of the Syrian coast.

Syria's charge was linked with Secretary of State Dulles' statement Saturday. Dulles reported on a White House conference in which President Eisenhower urged the Syrian people to act to ease the fear of Communist-inspired attacks by Syria on its neighbors.

No strike deadline has been set in the New York negotiations but one will be announced in the immediate future, Hughes said.

Nashville Integrated School Blasted; 5 Men Questioned

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A massive dynamite blast wrecked the newly integrated half million dollar Hattie Cotton elementary school here early today and hours later police arrested five men for questioning.

Three of the men were seized by Asst. Police Chief F. W. Muller when they refused to move from the vicinity of another grammar school which, like the dynamited one, was among six where white and Negro first graders went to classes for the first time Monday. One of the other two arrested was a brother of one of the first three arrested.

THE OFFICERS said they found at the home of the two seized by Cobb and Searcy 50 feet of wire of a type used with the explosives which wrecked Cotton School.

Police said one of the two "is a suspect we'd been looking for all night."

The first three arrested were charged with unlawful possession of weapons and ordered held under bonds of $25,000 each. They were booked as Vernon Albert Crimmons, 32; James R. Harris, 47, and J. B. Blackwell, 42.

The other two arrested, identified as Carol Crimmons, brother of Vernon, and W. D. Hodge, were charged with vagrancy and held under $250 bonds each.

Hearing for the five men, all of whom live outside the city limits, was set for Wednesday afternoon in City Court.

Muller said that in the car of the first three men arrested he found dynamite detonating device, a heavily weighted billy club with "KKK" carved on the handle, two heavy wooden mallets and a length of wire of the type used in setting off explosives.

The car itself, Muller said, was plastered with numerous "KKK" signs.

The three men taken into custody were reported to have been seen Monday at all of the city grammar schools where there were violent anti-segregation demonstrations.

Muller added that the three also had been seen at rallies held here by John Kasper, New Jersey-born segregationist.

The blast at Cotton school blew out one entire wall of the structure and wrecked four classrooms.

The schools admitted a total of 15 Negro first-graders in their first step toward court-ordered desegregation. There are 3,500 first graders including 2,000 white among the city's 18,000 school pupils.

The dynamite blast came only a few hours after police had dispersed a violent crowd of about 500 segregationists who were smashing windshields and windows of Negroes automobiles with bricks and bottles as they passed Fehr school.

FEHR, WHICH is located in a borderline Negro-white residential district, was the focal point of much of Monday's disorders. Three persons were arrested in the day and night disturbances, including one woman who was arrested twice.

Police Sgt. John Irwin said he found a detonating cap wire at the scene. He said the dynamite apparently was exploded in the school's entrance hall between the library and a classroom.

The concussion ripped through the building, tearing down walls and blasting every window from the one-story structure.

Asst. Supt. W. H. Oliver had this comment immediately on learning of the blast: "This is no longer a matter of segregation or desegregation. This is a matter of sheer lawlessness."

"We're up against thugs. This is the result of a flame that has been fanned in Nashville by some local conferred with Eisenhower shortly after the vacation White House announced the Justice Department will file "some time this afternoon" for a court injunction in the Little Rock case.

Acting on orders from U. S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies, the department will seek to restrain Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus from barring Negroes from Little Rock's Central High School.

The government's plan to file for an injunction against Faubus later in the day were announced by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty after he had conferred by telephone with Atty. Gen. Brownell in Washington.

Hagerty relayed a report on Brownell's plans to Eisenhower shortly before the President conferred with Bayard Rustin, Rhode Island's Republican national committeeman, and other GOP leaders from that state.

THE PRESIDENT then rode a Navy cabin cruiser across Narragansett Bay for another round of golf at Newport Country Club.

Ewing told newsmen outside the vacation White House that Eisenhower is "very much concerned" about the Little Rock situation.

The President was reported earlier to be determined to throw the full power of his office, if need be, into the showdown struggle between the State of Arkansas and the federal government.

But the President's vacation headquarters continued to refuse to shed any light on just how that power might be used if Faubus remains defiant.

What if Faubus and Arkansas guard officials whom Davies also ordered enjoined still stand in the way of mingling of white and Negro students?

Hagerty said only: "We're considering many things."

Another question was whether the President was putting "the full power and prestige of his office," behind Judge Davies, who at that point had not yet ordered the government to move for an injunction against Faubus.

Hagerty said the answer was "of course" if the question meant was the President supporting the federal court in whatever action it decided to order.

As the 9:39 a.m. deadline for the bomb passed without incident, police entered the Phillips building and began a methodical search of the building.

TOLEDO (AP)—The 17-year-old daughter of a Lutheran minister was knifed and beaten Monday night in an alley near her home.

The girl, Linda Berger, told police she was attacked from behind by three Negro youths as she was walking to a drug store to buy school supplies.

She said the three dragged her into the alley and attacked her with knives and fists.

Miss Berger was found by two other youths shortly after the attack. She was taken to Mercy Hospital with wounds of the stomach and legs. Attendants say her condition is fair.

Ike Says Patience Vital in Race Fuss

Birmingham Alerted
After Racial Display

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Phillips High School, scene of anti-integration violence Monday, was evacuated of its all-white student body of 2,400 today because of an anonymous bombing threat.

Calls both to central police headquarters and to the high school said a bomb had been placed in the block-square downtown building to go off at 9:39 a.m.

Fire bells rang at the school and the students marched out promptly. Police, on guard against any new violence or against any new attempt to enroll Negroes, blocked off the streets surrounding the school.

Meanwhile, tension was eased somewhat as the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, pro-integration leader, beaten Monday as he sought to enroll four Negroes at Phillips, said he would make no such move today.

Shuttlesworth said he was confined to his bed on doctor's orders because of the beating.

THE PHILLIPS evacuation followed swiftly after police broke up a noisy anti-integration demonstration at Woodlawn High, in the eastern area.

About 75 to 100 Woodlawn students made up a shouting throng as they refused to attend classes. Some yelled "No Negroes will get by us." Police threatened to turn a fire hose on them and they marched away from the school.

A score or more of the Woodlawn demonstrators shortly appeared at Phillips, some three miles away, and were turned away by police.

As the 9:39 a.m. deadline for the bomb passed without incident, police entered the Phillips building and began a methodical search of the building.

Governors Split on Attitude Toward Arkansas Chieftain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some governors spoke out Monday against the actions of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus on the school integration issue, while others raised their voices in his defense. Numerous governors chose to remain silent on the issue.

One defender was Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, who said he thought Faubus, in ordering the National Guard to keep Negroes out of a school where a federal court had ordered integration, was "on sound ground."

But at Madison, Wis., Gov. Vernon Thomson, Republican, said that "from here it (Faubus action) appears to be a shocking disregard of lawful procedure."

"It is reminiscent of the stand of the South in the Civil War. It is difficult to understand."

Another Republican governor, Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, has said: "No member of the Maryland National Guard will ever be asked to cross his rifle at a schoolyard gate to bar the entrance of a little girl."

Among Democratic governors attacking Faubus' action were Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Harriman was one of the governors to whom Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts had proposed that a bipartisan committee of governors be named to seek a solution of the integration problem in Little Rock.

Furcolo said he made the proposal to Faubus, Harriman, Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D-Mich.), Gov. George Leader (D-Pa.), Gov. Orville L. Freeman (D-Minn.), Gov. William G. Stratton (R-Ill.), Gov. Thomas B. Stanley (D-Va.), and presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Leader commended the plan but declined to serve due to the pressure of his schedule. Leader had no immediate comment on the Little Rock situation.

Williams said at Lansing, Mich., that "it's unfortunate that things appear to have reached the stage where state governors have to undertake the solution of a problem which ought to be the responsibility of the President."

In Springfield, Ill., Stratton

would neither affirm nor deny that Furcolo had called him. Furcolo said he asked Stratton, chairman of the Governors' Conference, to appoint the committee. Stratton refused to comment on the Little Rock situation.

Many Southern governors declined to take a public stand on the issue. Among those were Gov. Stanley of Virginia, Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.

South Carolina's Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. reiterated the stand he took in a telegram to Faubus Saturday, in which he said "I congratulate and commend you on the rightfulness of your position."

Republican Gov. Harold Handley of Indiana said he did not believe the Arkansas situation has reached the stage of a states' rights battle but was still a fight between the state of Arkansas and the federal judiciary.

Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky said: "I sympathize with him and would help him if I could."

U. S. Attorney Files Petition For Injunction

Arkansas Governor Accepts Summons for Hearing on Sept. 20

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A U. S. marshal passed through the main gate of the governor's mansion today with an order directing Gov. Orval Faubus to appear in U. S. District Court Sept. 20.

Troops guarding the mansion opened the gates for the officer.

The summons ordered the governor and two subordinates to come to court for a hearing on the issuance of a preliminary injunction restraining him from further interfering with enrollment of Negro students at Little Rock Central High School.

A federal authority said he understood the governor had agreed to answer summons but there was no confirmation from Faubus.

The marshal walked through the gate alone. Gov. Faubus came out and accepted the summons.

Named with Faubus were Arkansas Adj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, who carried out the governor's orders to put the school off limits to Negroes, and Lt. Col. Marion E. Johnson, head of the Guard detachment stationed at the school.

Meanwhile, Faubus said "I would be willing to meet with anyone" to seek a solution to the bitter struggle over integrating high schools in the Little Rock area.

He said he would even be willing to meet with Eisenhower to seek solution of the stalemate caused when he ringed Little Rock's Central High School with the National Guard with orders to keep the peace, and incidentally, he says, keep Negroes out of classes.

Federal Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies immediately began writing an order. Grady Miller, court clerk, said:

Miller did not reveal the nature of the order. The judge last night asked federal attorneys to prepare the petition for a restraining order.

If the judge grants the petition, as he is expected to, Faubus and the Guard will be called before the court for a temporary injunction hearing under normal procedures, legal authorities said. At that time, the judge may set a date for a hearing to make the injunction permanent.

HE ALSO said "I have a very strong feeling" that Federal Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies was specifically selected by federal authorities and sent to Little Rock to stand by earlier integration orders. Davies is from North Dakota.

Asked if he felt his representatives had presented enough evidence to the FBI to support his action in calling out the Guard, he replied, "Sufficient to persuade any reasonable man."

The governor said he met with Justice Department representatives before the fall school term opened, discussed the situation with them, but did not tell them

Contract Set for New Flooring

Hospital Bond Campaign Is Outlined by Trustees

Steps toward organizing the Fayette County Memorial Hospital's campaign for its proposed $780,000 bond issue to be voted on at the coming November election occupied most of the attention of the board of trustees of the institution at its regular meeting Monday night.

Among other matters acted on by the board was the awarding of a $2749.93 contract to the Wilson Flooring Co. of Columbus for flooring replacements in the surgery operating rooms and delivery room of the maternity division.

The bid includes laying ceramic conductive floor covering, installed in mastic, which serve as a shock absorbent against static electricity. The present linoleum floor covering has served this general purpose but shows signs of severe wear. The new type of flooring is the most modern recommended protective floor covering for such areas.

ANOTHER action taken by the board was to instruct the county

"(1) The County Superintendent of Fayette County, before your Board:

"A. Opposed the transfer of territory already in the corporate limits of the City of Washington Court House to the Washington Court House City School District.

"B. Maintained that such a transfer constituted a grab or nibble at rural school tax duplicate.

"C. Maintained that the City Board of Education was not sincere in its plan to build an elementary school building in the area.

"D. Had supporting statements from the Miami Trace Board that it has facilities to service this area.

"E. Stated before your Board that his objection to the transfer would be withdrawn if and when the City Board fully demonstrated its honest intent to build on the area.

"(2) There was read into the record of the August 22 meeting of the Citizens' Committee, by the majority, typed statements which purport to be sub-committee reports, which attempt to prove by grossly improvised comparisons, that the City of Washington Court House Board of Education cannot build in this area, because of lack of funds, in spite of statements from both the Washington C. H. City Board and its architects as to the adequacy of the voted City Bond issue.

"This report was prepared and delivered to the full committee by the sub-committee chairman and one member, both from the majority group. The City District member of this sub-committee was not consulted, nor asked to participate in any meeting of the sub-committee. In fact, the information on Bond fund adequacy which the city member was assigned to secure from the City Board for reporting at the full committee meeting August 22, was not considered in the drafting of the sub-committee report.

"Consequently, this Partial Recommendation of the Fayette County Citizens' Committee is not worth the paper it is written on.

"As a result, the Committee recommendation delivered to your Board appears to be the final step in a plan to do one or all of the following: degrade the legal purpose of a Citizens' Committee; degrade the integrity of the City Board of Education; and mislead your State Board of Education.

"We earnestly request that you consider all the facts, as we believe they justify your Board's refusing to approve the recommendation.

"We earnestly request that the State Board of Education act under the Revised Code Sections 3311.37 and 3311.38 and conduct an investigation of the organizational or transfer problems of the School Districts of Fayette County at the earliest possible date."

he may take when the injunction is issued.

"I have not received official notice of it and it will be a very important legal question," he said. "I'd like to see the official notice to see just what it involves."

Reporters asked what the troops guarding the mansion would do if federal marshals attempt to enter to serve the notice.

He said, "They have no instructions on that point."

Meanwhile, there was intense speculation that a compromise, spearheaded by the governors of five states, may be in the making to dissolve the impasse between the U. S. government and Faubus.

Massachusetts' Gov. Foster Furcolo, a Democrat, telephoned Faubus and laid before him a proposal to put the Little Rock dispute in the hands of five governors for study.

FAUBUS SAID he deliberated for an hour and then telephoned his acceptance to Furcolo.

The Massachusetts governor said he consulted with Gov. W. Averell Harriman (D-NY), Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D-Mich), Gov. George M. Leader (D-Pa), Gov. Orville L. Freeman (D-Minn) and Gov. William G. Stratton (R-Ill).

He also discussed the proposal with presidential assistant Sherman Adams in Washington.

The Arkansas Gazette said direct contact was established for the first time Monday between the White House and the Arkansas governor's mansion.

Faubus said he did not know whether President Eisenhower had approved of Furcolo's proposal and would not presume to speak for him if he did.

A reporter asked: "Are you in the process of making deals or dickering with the federal authorities in Washington?"

"Well, I wouldn't put it in that light but I'm amenable to any solutions to the problem," the governor replied.

When did he plan to withdraw the soldiers from the high school? "I wish I knew," he said several times Monday.

He told the newsmen that a friend had told him an attempt would be made on his life by "a certain group taking off from a Northern city with the purpose of bumping me off."

He did not identify the city and said, "I don't place much credence in it."

he planned to call out the Guard.

This morning as classes opened at 2,000-pupil Central High, the number of National Guardsmen appeared sharply reduced. Only 70 or 80 white demonstrators stood across from the campus.

An effigy of a Negro was hung during the night at North Little Rock High School, scene of racial violence Monday.

A heavy detail of officers guarded the 1,500-student North Little Rock High this morning. These included about 30 city police, a dozen or so deputy sheriffs and about a dozen state troopers.

THERE ARE two key questions still to be answered—

Will the governor permit federal authorities to pass through the guards at the mansion and personally serve him with notice of the restraining order?

If he refuses, what action will the federal government take against him?

At a press conference Monday, Faubus gave no indication of steps

Safety Awards Banquet Planned

Tri-County Event To Be Held Here

Tentative plans for a tri-county safety awards banquet were discussed by the directors of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting in the Chamber office Monday night.

Chamber Manager William Stoughton said the banquet had been set for Oct. 22, but that conflicts may necessitate a change.

Purpose of the banquet is to honor the 34 industries in Fayette, Greene and Clinton Counties that participated in a tri-county safety contest in 1956, and went through the year with no lost time because of accidents.

Participants who had the lowest accident-frequency records in their size-groups will be given special recognition. Certificates will be presented to the 34, and other certificates to the industries with low ratings.

The size-group winners include some other industries in groups that did not have a perfect record.

THE BANQUET will be held at American Legion Hall here. The dinner, as well as the contest, is sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce in Wilmington, Xenia and Washington C. H., in cooperation with the Industrial Commission of Ohio.

At the same session, it was announced that six delegates from Washington C. H. will be allowed to represent the city at the annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce Oct. 15 and 16 in Columbus.

Stoughton told the board he is ready to hear from anyone who would like to attend. George Humphrey, former secretary of treasury, will be a featured speaker.

Stoughton also delivered reports on his visit to Camp Breckenridge, Ky., where Fayette County National Guardsmen did two weeks of summer training this year, the farm-city goodwill roundup, and teacher get-acquainted day.

Chamber President Walter Morrow reported on activities of the Route 35 Assn.

Dulles Believes

the Middle East is a "weak spot," as Murphy put it, and ripe for plucking without American resistance.

Three factors figures in the timing, officials said. They were (1) failure to reach agreement with Russia at the London disarmament talks; (2) the Soviet Union's boastful announcement two weeks ago that it had successfully launched an intercontinental missile, coupled with more recent statements from Moscow that Russia could beat America in any nuclear war; and (3) stepped-up Communist penetration of the Middle East through power seizure and arms buildups in Syria.

AMERICAN officials noted that Russia followed its missile announcement with a publicity campaign aimed at picturing America as a military weakling.

Only last Sunday Soviet air chief Konstantin A. Vershinin said Russia could destroy the United States and all its allies with smaller losses itself. Vershinin told the Soviet Communist paper Pravda that a Soviet H-bomb attack could inflict 50 million casualties on the United States.

Murphy said: "We have taken constant initiative to bring into being a comprehensive disarmament agreement with built-in safeguards. It is entirely possible that this initiative has been misinterpreted in some world areas as a decline in American power."

He mentioned big Soviet arms shipments to Syria, Egypt and Yemen, and to the arrival in the Middle East area of what he said were substantial numbers of Russian technicians.

"I think it should be said to those countries impressed by Soviet power politics and access to Soviet arms, Communist methods being what they are, they run the grave risk of absorption and loss of their independence," he said.

"I hope this will at last waken the law abiding citizens of this community to the problem we're up against."

Oliver added that so far as he could say, the blast would not affect the school board's desegregation plan or operation of the schools of a desegregated basis.

Although numerous dynamite explosions have accompanied desegregation disorders in various other Southern cities, it is believed that no schools had previously been damaged by them.

Although surly crowds picketed five of the affected schools Monday, 115 city policemen patrolled them and intervened whenever violence threatened, averting major violence.

WHEN THE Negroes were admitted many white parents angrily removed their children from the schools. School Supt. W. A. Bass reported Monday night that attendance was off 30 per cent at the five schools.

Under the new first-grade zoning, a total of 126 Negroes were eligible to enter previously all-white schools, but most of them took advantage of voluntary transfer privileges.

Only 13 showed up to register for classes two weeks ago. Nineteen turned up for the first day of classes Monday. But four were not enrolled because of technicalities.

Violence continued immediately after school at Fehr with slashing of two tires on the automobile of the school's Negro janitor, Richard Hancock, 42, plus an attempt to set the interior afire.

About midnight a sullen crowd began to gather at the school, apparently spontaneously, with a high percentage of teen-agers.

Soon afterward bottle and brick throwing began from the shadows along the street and a lookout system was organized for spotting Negroes' cars a block ahead.

When they came abreast the school bricks, rocks and bottles rained on them. One car was halted and rocked from side to

Teacher Requirement May Be Overhauled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overhaul of some major regulations governing teacher certification is being considered by the State Board of Education.

The board indicated at its regular meeting Monday night that it will adopt the proposed changes but called a mandatory public hearing on them for Nov. 12.

The changes, recommended by a subcommittee of the board, would:

Require a minimum of 17 hours and a maximum of 20 hours of professional educational courses for all high school teachers. There is not maximum now.

Require a minimum of 28 hours and a maximum of 34 semester hours of training in all institutions preparing elementary teachers. The present minimum of 28 hours would remain unchanged, but the maximum of 38 would be reduced by four.

Require principals and supervisors in elementary and high schools to have a year's classroom experience in the same type of school they are administering. The regulation requiring them to have three years successful classroom teaching, at any level, would continue.

Eliminate the present requirement for teachers to have dual certification—one for elementary and one for high school teaching. The board also approved recommendations of Dr. E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction, dealing with the annexation of school districts. The proposed policy would enable school districts to avoid loss of tax revenue by having county commissioners and city councils use certain provisions for conditional annexations pending decisions by the State Board on school annexation proposals.

Contract Set for New Flooring

Hospital Bond Campaign Is Outlined by Trustees

Steps toward organizing the Fayette County Memorial Hospital's campaign for its proposed $780,000 bond issue to be voted on at the coming November election occupied most of the attention of the board of trustees of the institution at its regular meeting Monday night.

Among other matters acted on by the board was the awarding of a $2749.93 contract to the Wilson Flooring Co. of Columbus for flooring replacements in the surgery operating rooms and delivery room of the maternity division.

The bid includes laying ceramic conductive floor covering, installed in mastic, which serve as a shock absorber against static electricity. The present linoleum floor covering has served this general purpose but shows signs of severe wear. The new type of flooring is the most modern, recommended protective floor covering for such areas.

ANOTHER action taken by the board was to instruct the county

been the following incidents:

"(1) The County Superintendent of Fayette County, before your Board:

"A. Opposed the transfer of territory already in the corporate limits of the City of Washington Court House to the Washington Court House City School District.

"B. Maintained that such a transfer constituted a grab or nibble at rural school tax duplicate.

"C. Maintained that the City Board of Education was not sincere in its plan to build an elementary school building in the area.

"D. Had supporting statements from the Miami Trace Board that it has facilities to service this area.

"E. Stated before your Board that his objection to the transfer would be withdrawn if and when the City Board fully demonstrated its honest intent to build on the area.

"(2) There was read into the record of the August 22 meeting of the Citizens' Committee, by the majority, typed statements which purport to be sub-committee reports, which attempt to prove by grossly improvised comparisons, that the City of Washington Court House Board of Education cannot build in this area, because of lack of funds, in spite of statements from both the Washington C. H. City Board and its architects as to the adequacy of the voted City Bond issue.

"This report was prepared and delivered to the full committee by the sub-committee chairman and one member, both from the majority group. The City District member of this sub-committee was not consulted, nor asked to participate in any meeting of the sub-committee. In fact, the information on Bond fund adequacy which the city member was assigned to secure from the City Board for reporting at the full committee meeting August 22, was not considered in the drafting of the sub-committee report.

"Consequently, this Partial Recommendation of the Fayette County Citizens' Committee is not worth the paper it is written on.

"As a result, the Committee recommendation delivered to your Board appears to be the final step in a plan to do one or all of the following: degrade the legal purpose of a Citizens' Committee; degrade the integrity of the City Board of Education, and mislead your State Board of Education.

"We earnestly request that you consider all the facts, as we believe they justify your Board's refusing to approve the recommendation.

"We earnestly request that the State Board of Education act under the Revised Code Sections 3311.37 and 3311.38 and conduct an investigation of the organizational or transfer problems of the School Districts of Fayette County at the earliest possible date."

he planned to call out the Guard. This morning as classes opened at 2,000-pupil Central High, the number of National Guardsmen appeared sharply reduced. Only 70 or 80 white demonstrators stood across from the campus.

An effigy of a Negro was hung during the night at North Little Rock High School, scene of racial violence Monday.

A heavy detail of officers guarded the 1,500-student North Little Rock High this morning. Those included about 30 city police, a dozen or so deputy sheriffs and about a dozen state troopers.

THERE ARE two key questions still to be answered—Will the governor permit federal authorities to pass through the guards at the mansion and personally serve him with notice of the restraining order? If he refuses, what action will the federal government take against him?

At a press conference Monday, aubus gave no indication of steps prosecuting attorney to bring a friendly suit in Common Pleas Court to obtain an order directing the county board of commissioners to pay the cost of comprehensive liability insurance, covering all employees and workers at the hospital.

According to a ruling from Ohio's attorney general, it was reported to the board no suit can be brought against a county or state hospital in case of injury by accident to anyone at the institution. However, this does not prevent a suit against an individual official or employee. It is to protect those who are thus identified with the hospital that this action is taken, it was explained.

Liability insurance has been carried in the past by the hospital but, on the strength of the attorney general's opinion, the county commissioners declined to pay for such insurance without protection of a court order.

THE HOSPITAL trustees set next Monday at 7:30 p. m. as the time for a called meeting of the hospital advisory committee at the hospital for further discussion and planning the campaign for the bond issue and .65 of a mill operation levy proposals.

Members of the board agreed that there should be presented to the public a clearly stated, completely informative picture of the hospital's situation with reference to its pressing needs to meet public demands for service.

THE NEW construction and improvements proposed, trustees stated, should place the hospital in better condition for the present and for many years in future. The institution has attained a high place as a valuable asset of this county, board members asserted, and after its eight years of service "requires expansion and considerable new equipment to maintain its progress and high standards."

It was pointed out during the course of the meeting that while the trustees were in session, there was a typical situation in the hospital when nine patients were lined up in beds in the corridors because no rooms were available.

he may take when the injunction is issued.

"I have not received official notice of it and it will be a very important legal question," he said. "I'd like to see the official notice to see just what it involves."

Reporters asked what the troops guarding the mansion would do if federal marshals attempt to enter to serve the notice.

He said, "They have no instructions on that point."

Meanwhile, there was intense speculation that a compromise, spearheaded by the governors of five states, may be in the making to dissolve the impasse between the U. S. government and Faubus. Massachusetts' Gov. Foster Furcolo, a Democrat, telephoned Faubus and laid before him a proposal to put the Little Rock dispute in the hands of five governors for study.

FAUBUS SAID he deliberated for an hour and then telephoned his acceptance to Furcolo.

The Massachusetts governor said he consulted with Gov. W. Averell Harriman (D-NY), Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D-Mich), Gov. George M. Leader (D-Pa), Gov. Orville L. Freeman (D-Minn) and Gov. William G. Stratton (R-Ill). He also discussed the proposal with presidential assistant Sherman Adams in Washington.

The Arkansas Gazette said direct contact was established for the first time Monday between the White House and the Arkansas governor's mansion.

Faubus said he did not know whether President Eisenhower had approved of Furcolo's proposal and would not presume to speak for him if he did.

A reporter asked: "Are you in the process of making deals or dickering with the federal authorities in Washington?"

"Well, I wouldn't put it in that light but I'm amenable to any solutions to the problem," the governor replied.

When did he plan to withdraw the soldiers from the high school? "I wish I knew," he said several times Monday.

He told the newsmen that a friend had told him an attempt would be made on his life by "a certain group taking off from a Northern city with the purpose of bumping me off."

He did not identify the city and said, "I don't place much credence in it."

Safety Awards Banquet Planned

Tri-County Event To Be Held Here

Tentative plans for a tri-county safety awards banquet were discussed by the directors of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting in the Chamber office Monday night.

Chamber Manager William Stoughton said the banquet had been set for Oct. 22, but that conflicts may necessitate a change.

Purpose of the banquet is to honor the 34 industries in Fayette, Greene and Clinton Counties that participated in a tri-county safety contest in 1956, and went through the year with no lost time because of accidents.

Participants who had the lowest accident-frequency records in their size-groups will be given special recognition. Certificates will be presented to the 34, and other certificates to the industries with low ratings.

The size-group winners include some other industries in groups that did not have a perfect record.

THE BANQUET will be held at American Legion Hall here. The dinner, as well as the contest, is sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce in Washington, Xenia and Washington C. H., in cooperation with the Industrial Commission of Ohio.

At the same session, it was announced that six delegates from Washington C. H. will be allowed to represent the city at the annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce Oct. 15 and 16 in Columbus.

Stoughton told the board he is ready to hear from anyone who would like to attend. George Humphrey, former secretary of treasury, will be a featured speaker.

Stoughton also delivered reports on his visit to Camp Breckenridge, Ky., where Fayette County National Guardsmen did two weeks of summer training this year, the farm-city goodwill roundup, and teacher get-acquainted day.

Chamber President Walter Morrow reported on activities of the Route 35 Assn.

Dulles Believes

the Middle East is a "weak spot," as Murphy put it, and ripe for plucking without American resistance.

Three factors figures in the timing, officials said. They were (1) failure to reach agreement with Russia at the London disarmament talks; (2) the Soviet Union's boastful announcement two weeks ago that it had successfully launched an intercontinental missile, coupled with more recent statements from Moscow that Russia could beat America in any nuclear war; and (3) stepped-up Communist penetration of the Middle East through power seizure and arms buildups in Syria.

AMERICAN officials noted that Russia followed its missile announcement with a publicity campaign aimed at picturing America as a military weakling.

Only last Sunday Soviet air chief Konstantin A. Vershinin said Russia could destroy the United States and all its allies with smaller losses itself. Vershinin told the Soviet Communist paper Pravda that a Soviet H-bomb attack could inflict 50 million casualties on the United States.

Murphy said: "We have taken constant initiative to bring into being a comprehensive disarmament agreement with built-in safeguards. It is entirely possible that this initiative has been misinterpreted in some world areas as a decline in American power."

He mentioned big Soviet arms shipments to Syria, Egypt and Yemen, and to the arrival in the Middle East area of what he said were substantial numbers of Russian technicians.

"I think it should be said to those countries impressed by Soviet power politics and access to Soviet arms, Communist methods being what they are, they run the grave risk of absorption and loss of their independence," he said.

Elza (Sally) Dowler, 70, of 517 Fourth St., suffered a fatal heart attack at 11:20 a. m. Monday while visiting at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Opa Toner, of Route 1, Spring Valley, near Bellbrook.

Mr. Dowler, a retired tree surgeon, had been in failing health for the past three years. He was born in Ross County and had spent most of his life in Washington C. H.

Besides his daughter, Mr. Dowler leaves four brothers, Gilbert, Erk, Mahlon and Milton, all of Washington, C. H.; three sisters, Mrs. Inez English, Dayton, Mrs. Mada Waters and Mrs. Iva Clickner, Washington C. H.

Services will be at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in charge. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

"I hope this will at last waken the law abiding citizens of this community to the problem we're up against."

Oliver added that so far as he could say, the blast would not affect the school board's desegregation plan or operation of the schools of a desegregated basis.

Although numerous dynamite explosions have accompanied desegregation disorders in various other Southern cities, it is believed that no schools had previously been damaged by them.

Although surly crowds picketed five of the affected schools Monday, 115 city policemen patrolled them and intervened whenever violence threatened, averting major violence.

WHEN "THE Negroes were admitted many white parents angrily removed their children from the schools. School Supt. W. A. Bass reported Monday night that attendance was off 30 per cent at the five schools.

Under the new first-grade zoning, a total of 126 Negroes were eligible to enter previously all-white schools, but most of them took advantage of voluntary transfer privileges.

Only 13 showed up to register for classes two weeks ago. Nine turned up for the first day of classes Monday. But four were not enrolled because of technicalities.

Violence continued immediately after school at Fehr with slashing of two tires on the automobile of the school's Negro janitor, Richard Hancock, 42, plus an attempt to set the interior afire.

About nightfall a sullen crowd began to gather at the school, apparently spontaneously, with a high percentage of teen-agers.

Soon afterward bottle and brick throwing began from the shadows along the street and a lookout system was organized for spotting Negroes' cars a block ahead.

When they came abreast the school bricks, rocks and bottles rained on them. One car was halted and rocked from side to

Teacher Requirement May Be Overhauled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overhaul of some major regulations governing teacher certification is being considered by the State Board of Education.

The board indicated at its regular meeting Monday night that it will adopt the proposed changes but called a mandatory public hearing on them for Nov. 12.

The changes, recommended by a subcommittee of the board, would:

Require a minimum of 17 hours and a maximum of 20 hours of professional educational courses for all high school teachers. There is not maximum now.

Require a minimum of 28 hours and a maximum of 34 semester hours of training in all institutions preparing elementary teachers. The present minimum of 28 hours would remain unchanged, but the maximum of 38 would be reduced by four.

Require principals and supervisors in elementary and high schools to have a year's classroom experience in the same type of school they are administering. The regulation requiring them to have three years successful classroom teaching, at any level, would continue.

Eliminate the present requirement for teachers to have dual certification—one for elementary and one for high school teaching.

The board also approved recommendations of Dr. E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction, dealing with the annexation of school districts.

The proposed policy would enable school districts to avoid loss of tax revenue by having county commissioners and city councils use certain provisions for conditional annexations pending decisions by the State Board on school annexation proposals.

side by a gang before being allowed to proceed.

Shortly afterward 25 policemen moved into the crowd and began to disperse it.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
The East Monroe post office which was established July 18, 1833, or a matter of 124 years ago, may be discontinued by the Post Office Department under present plans.

However, residents of that village and community are making an effort to retain the office. They have sent petitions bearing 200 names to the Post Office Department, protesting its discontinuance.

It is understood that only part of the signers of the petition are patrons of the office, and this may be taken into consideration when the powers that be decide the fate of the office.

CORN RIPENS RAPIDLY

Most of the corn in Fayette and adjacent counties has been ripening rapidly the past two weeks and noticed in one field near Washington C. H. that a farmer has placed his corn picker, with tractor attached, in his field ready to start picking corn, possibly within two weeks.

His field of corn was riper than most, but it is expected that if dry weather continues, corn picking will get under way on a large scale during late September and most of it completed in October.

Reports as to quality vary somewhat; they run all the way from fair to exceptionally good.

WOOD MAIN ASSET

Wood, so abundant in this part of Ohio is pioneer days, was relied upon more than anything else to supply the simple needs of the early settlers and their descendants for 100 years or more.

Wood not only was used for building log houses but furnished heat for cooking and warmth. It also was utilized in making crude furniture, household utensils, such as bowls, forks spoons and many of other things.

As the clearings widened and farm lands increased, wood was used for making pole and rail fences.

One of the highly important uses of wood was for making troughs for holding water for livestock. In some instances whole tree trunks 20 feet or more in length and 30 inches in diameter were used for water troughs for livestock.

To convey the logs into troughs it was necessary to "square" that part of the log which was to form the bottom of the trough. Then the inside of the trunk was chopped away until it was hollowed out. Troughs and broadax were used to put the finishing touches inside. Sufficient length of the trunk was left at each end to insure it holding water.

The troughs were then "Snaked" (dragged) to where they were to be used. Frequently these troughs lasted for a quarter of a century or more.

Later wooden troughs were made from staves and then iron and concrete. Later galvanized troughs became popular and are still used.

CHANGES MADE

Those familiar with guns and ammunition are aware that tremendous changes have taken place in the manufacture of gunpowder over a period of years. The former black powder, which exploded with much smoke, was supplanted by smokeless powder 50 years or more ago, and in recent years DuPont (which has purchased land on Route 33, west, for a new plant) has developed a high velocity powder which is much more powerful than smokeless, which in turn had considerably more power than plain black powder.

Recently while vacationing in the south, we visited a huge cavern in the mountains near the Virginia-West Virginia line in which the Confederate soldiers processed saltpeter for production of gunpowder in large quantities for use in the Civil War.

It was necessary to walk nearly a mile in the big cavern, the most dangerous of many we have visited, before we came upon the crude wooden hoppers used by the Confederate forces to process the saltpeter by extracting the potassium nitrate, mixing it with sulphur and charcoal and producing black powder.

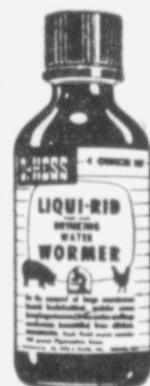

The several dozens of large wooden hoppers, still well preserved, each had a trough underneath, hewn from trunks of trees. Apparently the saltpeter has preserved the wood almost in its original state.

By reason of the dangerous footing and poor lighting in the big cavern, I would not advise anyone to make the trip until some of the hazards are removed and better lighting provided.

The old saltpeter hoppers, reminded me of the old ash hoppers used in extracting lye from wood ashes. They vanished from this county more than half a century ago, but they formerly were a real asset to any home for they provided lye for converting waste fats into soft soap, used extensively in washing clothes and for other purposes, until commercial soap became more abundant in the markets.

Slayers of Amish Farmer To Undergo Mental Examination

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—Two accused slayers of an Amish farmer will undergo examinations at Lima State Hospital this week after Monday entering pleas of innocent due to insanity.

The two, Michael George Dumoulin, 20, Wooster, Ohio, and Cleo Eugene Peters, 19, Muscatine Iowa, were charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Paul M. Coblenz, 25, an Amish farmer of near Mount Hope July 18.

Authorities said Coblenz was slain while he and his wife were being robbed in their home. Mrs. Coblenz was beaten when the assailants failed to rape her. The

Who Is Right about Waste and Extravagance?

There has been so much criticism in recent months of the alleged waste and demands for huge expenditures by the military setup in this country that reports indicate that high officialdom in the Pentagon is showing considerable annoyance.

The demands for cuts in expenses of different branches of the armed services of our nation is said to be causing the spread of reports that the movement is endangering the future of our defense protection.

Some of the statements as to extravagance and waste, if true, certainly should justify criticism. Within our federal government there should be some department or some officials who know. Let them speak up so that the people will know what to believe.

Not long ago the Air Force had to order a letdown on the guided missile program it is said, as well as a reduction in its civilian payroll. Recently the Army was ordered to deactivate another combat division, also to close a number of training centers.

According to news reports Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson is the chief one to call a halt on the fast rising expense of our country's defense organization. For this he is being given credit by many, including members of Congress who have insisted that our military expenses are out of line.

At the same time Wilson is being subjected to some criticism from military leaders who claim that his economy moves are a distinct threat to the security of this country. Again the general public would like to know who is right.

From authoritative sources it is declared that most people might agree with the Pentagon officialdom if it hadn't been for a Senate Permanent Investigations Committee. Many have said that it does seem foolish to be skimping on missile development at a time when the Kremlin claims to have successfully tested a guided carrier which can hit any target in the world. Moreover, the need for combat-ready ground troops is not lessened by the Red coup in Syria.

However some things cannot be overlooked such as the discovery by congressional investigators that the Ford Motor Company ran into difficulties in the way of a maze of red tape recently when it tried to refund several million dollars to the Air Force after the company found it could produce a particular item for less than Air Force officials had agreed to pay. Then, following an inquiry into Air Force operations in Newfoundland, Labrador, and Greenland, Senators uncovered a record of mismanagement which has cost taxpayers uncountable millions.

It was through the initiative of lawmakers that $20 million worth of surplus materials was recovered from northern supply depots; air commanders apparently hadn't thought it important enough to report overages in shipments to their bases and, for years, had been caching the excess stuff in warehouses and underground bunkers.

Such news makes a mockery of Pentagon protests that civilian economizers are undermining America's military strength. Maybe Washington brass hats perhaps need to be reminded of the responsibility they share in making the best use of defense dollars. America is not growing strong on such waste as this.

Go to Theater for Laundry

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That a theater in South Africa beat the boxoffice slump by providing laundry service for its patrons. When they emerge from the movie, the week's washing is finished and ready to take home.

That in some parts of Alaska, where the temperature drops to 60 below zero housewives have found the best place to keep food "warm" is in the refrigerator.

That heat travels faster than cold — which may explain why why it's so easy for anyone to catch cold.

That Arthur Murray tells of the farmer who took dancing lessons by mail for six months, then wrote: "Have finished your course. Please send partner."

That the British army lists the 68 Barbary apes on Gibraltar as "gunners" and issues them special army rations. The reason: Legend has it that Britain will hold Gibraltar as long as the apes remain there.

That there's a nonsinkable golf ball on the market now for players who like to play water shots.

That a guy parked outside of Walsh's Steak House had a shoe tied to the rear bumper and a sign attached to it: "Just divorced."

That 33 of the 48 states have Indian names.

That during the middle ages a female bigamist was sentenced to wear two pairs of men's breeches around her neck for the rest of her life.

That Frederick the Great cured his soldiers of wiping their nose on their sleeves by placing rows of buttons on the sleeve and tailors have followed the custom ever since

That during frontier fighting after the Revolutionary War Indians would taunt a captive white settler by asking "So you want more land?" and then stuff his mouth with dirt.

That the Empire State Building and Rockefeller Center are Manhattan's favorite sights and spots. A generation ago they were Grant's Tomb and the Woolworth Building.

That Chek-Ro, the new board game popular with our strap-hanger intellectuals, is actually an ancient Oriental game known as "go" in Japan.

That the black widow spider gets her name from her nervous habit of sometimes eating her spouse. You can never tell what a nervous female will do.

A Tribute to Cardinal Spellman

By George Sokolsky

In the very mixed community that is New York City, as large in population as some European countries, widespread in area, complex as to race, color, creed, the foremost citizen is Cardinal Francis Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop, now celebrating the 25th anniversary of his consecration as Bishop.

It is a curious role that Cardinal Spellman holds in New York. For apart from his episcopal duties in relation to his own church, he has won the affection and support of other religious groups not only by his Irish personality but by an urbane tolerance of the vast differences in human thought and human conduct.

These qualities have endeared him to a community that has long known separatism, the distinctions that resulted from wave upon wave of immigrants.

The sons of the earliest settlers, the Dutch and the British, regarded themselves, "Old New York," as a people apart who enjoyed a social primogeniture, as it were. The Irish divided themselves on a basis of wealth, until the differences between a "lace curtain" Irishman and a "shanty" Irishman was as widespread as the difference between an Englishman and an Irishman back in the old country.

As for the enormous Jewish population, the German Jews regarded the Russian, Polish and Rumanian Jews as beneath them, and even among the Negroes there were sectarian distinctions between those who lived in the depths of Harlem and those who rose to the grand heights of Sugar Hill. And so it went throughout the community.

But to Cardinal Spellman, these distinctions meant nothing and among those whom he recognized as friends have been men and women of all these groupings, none of whom he could recognize as more than human beings.

jecting artificialities of rank, position, creed, Cardinal Spellman has found friendship wherever it was offered.

In the company of Jews or Protestants or even such as regarded themselves as "emancipated" from ties of birth and tradition, he is a cheering friend, who speaks his mind frankly and yet inoffensively, a diplomat with a conscience.

His capacity for work is enormous and he has not only reorganized his archdiocese until it functions with modern efficiency, but he has managed to bring out qualities and capacities in other men, so that many have left his office to serve in elevated positions in his church. Someday someone will organize a Spellman Alumni Assn. of bishops whose careers were started as assistants to the Cardinal.

It used to be that the Cardinal's residence in New York City was known as the "power house," because it was believed that much of the politics of the city emanated therefrom. Whether that was so in the past, it is not so today. Cardinal Spellman, recognizing that moral force does not require the support of political preferment, has avoided politics altogether.

The Al Smith Memorial Dinner, which is one of his favorite charities, is as much Jewish as Catholic, as much Republican as Democratic. For many years, Tammany was dominated by Irish Catholics and it was assumed that it would always be so.

But Carmine DeSapio, of Italian origin, is now the leader of the Democratic party in city and state and is generally regarded

Cuttle-Fish Anyone? It's Latest Tasty Food

The list included roasted caterpillars, 79 cents for 1 2.5 ounces; fried silkworms, 99 cents for 1 2.5 ounces, and cuttle-fish in own ink, 29 cents for 4.5 ounces. Presumably for the children, there are chocolate covered fried ants, $1.49 for a 2 1/2 ounce tin.

Eyes May Be Factor In Delinquency

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Ever hear of "school myopia?" It's a nazar of our modern-day educational procedures and is one of the major causes of eye trouble among youngsters.

Seeing and hearing difficulties of such children, I contend, are behind a good deal of our juvenile delinquency problems.

The human eye finds it difficult to cope with today's demands for intricate near-point tasks with inadequate indoor light. Its natural aptitude is for simple far-point jobs in full daylight.

Nearsightedness, farsightedness, lack of depth perception, one-eyed seeing, glaucoma—these are among the most common visual difficulties found in children.

While we believe that some nearsightedness is caused by the shape of the eyeball, another from excessive close work. Statistics show that the percentage of nearsighted pupils increases steadily from grade to grade.

From 20 to 40 per cent of our children in kindergarten, through sixth grade have some sort of eye trouble. Some of these youngsters eventually will become blind if they don't get help.

Children with eye difficulties generally make poor readers, too, so to disputing that. Often they confuse similarly shaped letters such as o and a, e and c, n and m, h and n and r.

While it is true that some of the mistakes are caused simply by poor spelling ability, some are the result of poor seeing ability, too.

Eyesight tests of some 2,200 children in Grade 3 through 12 show that, in general, children who see well work well; those with poor eyesight do poor work.

Unless it is corrected, poor eyesight will cause visual fatigue. This, coupled with the inability to read as well as others in the class, may well cause a child's mind to wander. He's apt to become a daydreamer and his studies will suffer.

The emotional world that surrounds a child is an extremely important factor in his development. If he lags too far behind in his studies, or is much older than the other kids in his class, he is ripe for development into a full-scale delinquent.

The answer to this phase of the delinquency problem, is, of course, to detect eye and ear trouble promptly and to take steps to correct it.

Highway Inspector Ordered Dismissed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A $400-a-month highway inspector has been ordered removed from his job for political activities in violation of civil service regulations.

Acting Highway Director George Thornmyer said George Kirby Jr. of Marion was ordered removed for having circulated a petition on behalf of Michael DiSalle prior to the May 8, 1956, primary elections. DiSalle was nominated Democratic candidate for governor in that primary.

Indeed, he is one who wishes the feet of his servant.

Try and Stop Me

JOHN STRALEY tells about a handyman who developed a powerful yen for a pair of fawn-colored slacks in his boss' wardrobe and, figuring they would be given to him eventually, resolved to help things along a bit. He rubbed some grease into them in two prominent places, then told the owner, "Nothing I tries gits out the spots. Reckon you can't wear them pants no more."

"Funny," mused the owner. "Have you tried ammonia?"

"I sure has," grinned the handyman, "and they fits like a glove."

Many have said that it does seem foolish to be skimming on missile development at a time when the Kremlin claims to have successfully tested a guided carrier which can hit any target in the world. Moreover, the need for combat-ready ground troops is not lessened by the Red coup in Syria.

However some things cannot be overlooked such as the discovery by congressional investigators that the Ford Motor Company ran into difficulties in the way of a maze of red tape recently when it tried to refund several million dollars to the Air Force after the company found it could produce a particular item for less than Air Force officials had agreed to pay. Then, following an inquiry into Air Force operations in Newfoundland, Labrador, and Greenland, Senators uncovered a record of mismanagement which has cost taxpayers uncountable millions.

It was through the initiative of lawmakers that $20 million worth of surplus materials was recovered from northern supply depots; air commanders apparently hadn't thought it important enough to report overages in shipments to their bases and, for years, had been caching the excess stuff in warehouses and underground bunkers.

Such news makes a mockery of Pentagon protests that civilian economizers are undermining America's military strength. Maybe Washington brass hats perhaps need to be reminded of the responsibility they share in making the best use of defense dollars. America is not growing strong on such waste as this.

Go to Theater for Laundry

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That a theater in South Africa beat the boxoffice slump by providing laundry service for its patrons. When they emerge from the movie, the week's washing is finished and ready to take home.

That in some parts of Alaska, where the temperature drops to 60 below zero housewives have found the best place to keep food "warm" is in the refrigerator.

That heat travels faster than cold — which may explain why why it's so easy for anyone to catch cold.

That Arthur Murray tells of the farmer who took dancing lessons by mail for six months, then wrote: "Have finished your course. Please send partner."

That the British army lists the 68 Barbary apes on Gibraltar as "gunners" and issues them special army rations. The reason: Legend has it that Britain will hold Gibraltar as long as the apes remain there.

That there's a nonsinkable golf ball on the market now for players who like to play water shots.

That a guy parked outside of Walsh's Steak House had a shoe tied to the rear bumper and a sign attached to it: "Just divorced."

That 33 of the 48 states have Indian names.

That during the middle ages a female bigamist was sentenced to wear two pairs of men's breeches around her neck for the rest of her life.

That Frederick the Great cured his soldiers of wiping their nose on their sleeves by placing rows of buttons on the sleeve and tailors have followed the custom ever since.

That during frontier fighting after the Revolutionary War Indians would taunt a captive white settler by asking "So you want more land?" and then stuff his mouth with dirt.

That the Empire State Building and Rockefeller Center are Manhattan's favorite sights and eating spots. A generation ago they were Grant's Tomb and the Woolworth Building.

That Chek-Ro, the new board game popular with our strap-hanger intellectuals, is actually an ancient Oriental game known as "go" in Japan.

That the black widow spider gets her name from her nervous habit of sometimes eating her spouse. You can never tell what a nervous female will do.

A Tribute to Cardinal Spellman

In the very mixed community that is New York City, as large in population as some European countries, widespread in area, complex as to race, color, creed, the foremost citizen is Cardinal Francis Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop, now celebrating the 25th anniversary of his consecration as Bishop.

It is a curious role that Cardinal Spellman holds in New York. For apart from his episcopal duties in relation to his own church, he has won the affection and support of other religious groups not only by his Irish personality but by an urbane tolerance of the vast differences in human thought and human conduct.

These qualities have endeared him to a community that has long known separatism, the distinctions that resulted from wave upon wave of immigrants.

The sons of the earliest settlers, the Dutch and the British, regarded themselves, "Old New York," as a people apart who enjoyed a social primogeniture, as it were. The Irish divided themselves on a basis of wealth, until the differences between a "lace curtain" Irishman and a "shanty" Irishman was as widespread as the difference between an Englishman and an Irishman back in the old country.

As for the enormous Jewish population, the German Jews regarded the Russian, Polish and Rumanian Jews as beneath them, and even among the Negroes, there were sectarian distinctions between those who lived in the depths of Harlem and those who rose to the grand heights of Sugar Hill. And so it went throughout the community.

But to Cardinal Spellman, these distinctions meant nothing and among those whom he recognized as friends have been men and women of all these groupings, none of whom he could recognize as more than human beings. Rejecting artificialities of rank, position, creed, Cardinal Spellman has found friendship wherever it was offered.

In the company of Jews or Protestants or even such as regarded themselves as "emancipated" from ties of birth and tradition, he is a cheering friend, who speaks his mind frankly and yet inoffensively, a diplomat with a conscience.

His capacity for work is enormous and he has not only reorganized his archdiocese until it functions with modern efficiency, but he has managed to bring out qualities and capacities in other men, so that many have left his office to serve in elevated positions in his church. Someday someone will organize a Spellman Alumni Assn. of bishops whose careers were started as assistants to the Cardinal.

It used to be that the Cardinal's residence in New York City was known as the "power house," because it was believed that much of the politics of the city emanated therefrom. Whether that was so in the past, it is not so today. Cardinal Spellman, recognizing that moral force does not require the support of political preferment, has avoided politics altogether.

The Al Smith Memorial Dinner, which is one of his favorite charities, is as much Jewish as Catholic, as much Republican as Democratic. For many years, Tammany was dominated by Irish Catholics and it was assumed that it would always be so.

But Carmine DeSapio, of Italian origin, is now the leader of the Democratic party in city and state and is generally regarded as more literate and liberal-minded than most of his predecessors in Tammany Hall. On the other hand, the leader of the Republican city organization is Thomas J. Curran, an Irish Catholic lawyer of distinction.

The amazing fact of New York, a fact which may well be considered in an understanding of our civilization, is that in New York City live together in "peace and friendship," to use the current Soviet slogan, some 50 races and nationalities, practicing a dozen or more religions, publishing newspapers in all their various tongues and among them stands the personality of a moral colossus, often called, behind his back, the "Little Man," a term of affection, Cardinal Francis Spellman.

And of an evening, when he takes his walk, perhaps with Louis B. Mayer, his boyhood friend, or Charlie Silver who went as far as the eighth grade in school but now heads the Board of Education, every passerby raises his hat or touches the brim or showers blessings on this very kindly, humble man who does so much for anybody who will let him do for him.

Indeed, he is one who washes the feet of his servant.

Cuttle-Fish Anyone? It's Latest Tasty Food

NEW YORK (AP)—The word in cocktail-partying circles this fall is that it's smart to serve exotic snacks as canapés.
The New York Times reports food house offering a "fabulous collection" of foods for such occasions. The list included roasted caterpillars, 79 cents for 1 2.5 ounces; fried silkworms, 99 cents for 1 2.5 ounces; and cuttle-fish in own ink, 29 cents for 4 1/2 ounces. Presumably for the children, there are chocolate covered fried ants, $1.49 for a 2 1/2 ounce tin.

"Now, this may hurt a little . . . how old are you?"

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Ever hear of "school myopia"? It's a nazar of our modern-day educational procedures and is one of the major causes of eye trouble among youngsters.
Seeing and hearing difficulties of such children, I contend, are behind a good deal of our juvenile delinquency problems.

The human eye finds it difficult to cope with today's demands for intricate near-point tasks with inadequate indoor light. Its natural aptitude is for simple far-point jobs in full daylight.

Nearsightedness, farsightedness, lack of depth perception, one-eyed seeing, glaucoma—these are among the most common visual difficulties found in children.

While we believe that some nearsightedness is caused by the shape of the eyeball, another from excessive close work. Statistics show that the percentage of nearsighted pupils increases steadily from grade to grade.

From 20 to 40 per cent of our children in kindergarten, through sixth grade have some sort of eye trouble. Some of these youngsters eventually will become blind if they don't get help.

Children with eye difficulties generally make poor readers, there's no disputing that. Often they confuse similarly shaped letters such as o and a, e and c, n and m, h and n and r.

While it is true that some of the mistakes are caused simply by poor spelling ability, some are the result of poor seeing ability, too.

Eyesight tests of some 2,200 children in Grade 3 through 12 show that, in general, children who see well work well; those with poor eyesight do poor work.

Unless it is corrected, poor eyesight will cause visual fatigue. This, coupled with the inability to read as well as others in the class, may well cause a child's mind to wander. He's apt to become a daydreamer and his studies will suffer.

The emotional world that surrounds a child is an extremely important factor in his development. If he lags too far behind in his studies, or is much older than the other kids in his class, he is ripe for development into a full-scale delinquent.

The answer to this phase of the delinquency problem, is, of course, to detect eye and ear trouble promptly and to take steps to correct it.

Highway Inspector Ordered Dismissed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A $400-a-month highway inspector has been ordered removed from his job for political activities in violation of civil service regulations.

Acting Highway Director George Thormyer said George Kirby Jr. of Marion was ordered removed for having circulated a petition on behalf of Michael DiSalle prior to the May 8, 1956, primary elections. DiSalle was nominated Democratic candidate for governor in that primary.

What's Behind Your Electric Switch?

Electricity is so dependable in Ohio that it is taken for granted. You know it's there — at your command. But few folks realize what is required to have it there.

Behind your electric switch are an investment of over two billion dollars and the services of more than 22,000 men and women in Ohio. It is that combination, continuously expanding, which gives Ohio good electric service at low cost.

We're proud of these skilled people — the engineers, plant operators, accountants, linemen, servicemen, meter readers, the people who work in our offices, the women who conduct electric cooking demonstrations—those in dozens of different jobs who work together to make electricity the biggest bargain in your family budget.

This efficient team, using the finest equipment, has met the demand for twice as much electricity in the homes and industries of Ohio as nine years ago.

JOHN STRALEY tells about a handyman who developed a powerful yen for a pair of fawn-colored slacks in his boss' wardrobe and, figuring they would be given to him eventually, resolved to help things along a bit. He rubbed some grease into them in two prominent places, then told the owner, "Nothing I tries gits out the spots. Reckon you can't wear them pants no more."

"Funny," mused the owner. "Have you tried ammonia?"

"I sure has," grinned the handyman, "and they fits like a glove."

'Obsolescence' To Be Gimmick For TV Trade

Makers and Dealers Prime Campaign for Tradein of Models

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The harried television set makers and dealers are going to try a new gambit. It's right out of Detroit—or maybe the fashion salons of Paris. And its name is obsolescence.

They would like several million American families to decide their old sets are obsolete and poor things indeed compared to the one the Joneses are sporting.

For years the auto makers have thrived on convincing Americans that their old cars when parked alongside the neighbors' new ones made the family lose social standing.

Way before that the women's apparel industry learned how to make wives unhappily sure that last year's wardrobe was unfit to be seen in public.

Now the TV industry is going to try the same thing. It's kicking off a drive this week to stress that it's now 10 years since there was general consumer acceptance of TV and that the first ones were postage stamp size and mechanically inferior to today's models.

In that decade 50 million sets have been sold and James D. Secrest, of Washington, executive vice president of the Radio Electronics and TV Manufacturers Assn., estimates that about 44% million of these are still in use.

So you can see why the TV industry frets about reaching the saturation point and eyes replacement longingly.

Saturation isn't the industry's only problem. Sales have been sticky, inventories troublesome, and at times over-production has led to manufacturing fatalities.

There's a big rumble building up over TV vs. free TV. There's the chronic dispute over color vs. black and white.

But right now the manufacturers and retailers are sweeping all those problems under the rug and uniting in a drive to get more two-set homes, or even three-set families.

The idea they'd like to sell you is: the children should have a portable, dad should have a table model away from the family to watch sports in peace, and mother should have one of the new, trimmer and better styled consoles to improve the living room decor.

Secrest estimates this year's production of sets at seven million, down nearly a half million from last year, but with portables slowing a big gain this year and now accounting for 28 per cent of the total.

Underground Parking Plan Faces Lawsuit

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Underground Parking Commission Monday filed suit in the Ohio Supreme Court to test the legality of a proposed $5 million bond issue to finance their Statehouse parking project.

The commission asked the court to order its secretary-treasurer, Alvin J. Alexander, to publish notice of the bond sale and prepare a prospectus giving advance information to arouse interest. The commission Friday adopted a resolution approving the bond issue, to finance construction of a 1,900-car garage under the Statehouse square in Columbus.

Alexander voted against the bond resolution and balked at publication of the notice and preparation of the prospectus. His actions paved the way for the court test of the 40-year bond proposal, officials said.

Chicago Family Asks Protection In Murder Probe

CHICAGO (AP)—The mother of slain Judith Mae Andersen's closest friend was requested police protection for her family.

Mrs. Delores Johnson, 43, told police "there is obviously a maniac at large. The victim could have been my daughter, as easily as Judy."

Her daughter is 15-year-old Linnea (Terry) Johnson. The girls were almost inseparable pals before Judith disappeared Aug. 16. Her dismembered body was found a week later in Montrose Harbor.

Terry has denied to police reports that she and Judith accepted rides with strangers.

Police expanded their search for clues to the lake bottom outside Jontrose Harbor in Lake Michigan where Judith's body was found, and to neighborhoods not previously canvassed.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD G. GORMAN

Sunday Wedding Unites Couple

The Grace Methodist Church was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Mary Louise Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Stewart of W. Elm St., and Mr. Donald G. Gorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gorman S. Hinde St.

The open church wedding began at 3 o'clock. The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, performed the ceremony following a half hour of nuptial music by Miss Marian Christopher and Mr. Robert Neumann, soloist.

The church was decorated with white candelabra and alter vases of white gladioli and light pink asters. White satin bows and greenery marked the aisle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown with a white Chantilly lace bodice, long pointed lace sleeves, sweetheart neckline sprinkled with pearls, the waist line of the gown was scalloped and at the bottom of the skirt was pleated net and lace. Her finger tip veil was a round crown, trimmed with pearls and lace to match the gown and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, white carnations and centered with a gold threaded orchid, caught with showers of ribbon tied in lovers' knots. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Wayne VanMeter was maid of honor and Miss Connie Locke bride's maid. The best man was Eddie Jones and ushers were David Smith, William Benson, James Cunningham and Kemp Allemang. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stewart wore a crystal acetate princess style dress with charcoal and blue and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall in the church. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Provost and Miss Nancy Schlupe.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a green dress suit with a white hat and brown matching accessories. The orchid from her wedding bouquet was pinned to her shoulder. The new Mrs. Gorman is a graduate of Washington High School and is now employed by the Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc. Mr. Gorman is also a graduate of Washington High School and is employed by the Economy Savings and Loan Co. here. They are now residing at 1221 Rawlings St.

Steele-Sanderson Wedding

Miss Sandra Steele and Mr. Donald Sanderson were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Christian Church with the double ring ceremony by the Rev. Don McMillin.

A half hour of nuptial music by organist, Mrs. Nancy Stookey, preceded the ceremony. The altar was decorated with two seven-branch candelabra, cathedral vases filled with white gladioli and chrysanthemums and vases of gladioli and pink carnations. White satin bows and huckleberry marked the family pews.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Robert Goodson, a close friend of the family.

Her gown was of white Chantilly lace with brief sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The ballerina length skirt was fashioned of three ruffled net tiers over taffeta. The skirt was worn over an old fashioned hoop and crinolines. Her veil of French imported illusion was caught to a queen's crown of pleated nylon tulle and tiny seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with streamers tied in lover's knots.

Miss Fannie Longley, maid of honor, wore a navy blue velvet sheath dress and a light blue feathered hat sprinkled with rhinestones. Her colonial bouquet was of white pompons centered with pink sweetheart roses.

The bride's mother, Mrs. George Haynes, chose a peacock blue dress with black accessories. A corsage of pink carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

Mrs. Theodore Sanderson, mother of the groom, wore a sheer navy blue dress with black and white accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Sanderson had as his best man, Mr. Kenneth Boncutter. Ushers were Mr. Lincoln Schwart and Mr. Gail Garringer.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church basement. Hostesses were Mrs. Barbara Garringer, Mrs. Lois Goodson, Miss Ileen Cunningham and Miss Jackie Lightle.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, the new Mrs. Sanderson was wearing a white sheath dress with a blue duster and matching accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet attached to her shoulder.

Maine Abandons September Poll

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine has abandoned its first-in-the-nation September election date to join the 47 states that ballot in November.

The decision ending a tradition 137 years old was taken in a special referendum election Monday. The change will be effective in 1958.

And starting in 1960, Maine governors will serve four-year terms with a limit of two elected terms. Now the term is two years and there is no limitation. No governor, however, has served more than two terms.

'Divine Healing' Described Here

Christian Science Meeting Is Held

Spiritual healing is the natural result of the action of God's law, Lowell F. Kennett of Louisville, Ky., told an audience here.

During the course of his lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Good News of Spiritual Healing," he described healings through spiritual means alone of chronic alcoholism, rheumatism, total paralysis, and a gangrenous foot condition.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Kennett spoke at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the high school auditorium. He was introduced by Loren S. Stuckert, member of the church here.

Tracing the growth of spiritual healing, the lecturer said that the good news such healing presents for mankind is neither rumor nor theory, but derived from the inspired Word of the Bible.

"Christ Jesus, an inspired and understanding teacher of a new yet simple doctrine, came with the good news of the universal, loving fatherhood of God, the spiritual brotherhood of man, and the coming of the kingdom of heaven on earth," Kennett declared.

JOY and the intelligent expectation of good are essential to vital Christianity, he affirmed.

"To Jesus the so called miracle was the inevitable result of the action of spiritual law, and Christian Science brings the good news that spiritual healing is not a supernatural occurrence, but a divinely natural one," he declared.

Healing, as taught and practiced by Jesus, continued, for nearly three hundred years after the resurrection, he said. "Although such devout men as Martin Luther and John Wesley are known to have healed some of their followers through prayer, Mary Baker Eddy was the first to recognize the activity of the infinite goodness of God, not as resulting in occasional healing, but as a demonstrable Science ever available to all," he added.

Husband's Edicts Upheld by Judge

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Circuit Judge John J. Niblack has ruled that reading the Bible requiring your spouse to wear skirts instead of blue jeans and insistence on church attendance does not constitute grounds for divorce.

Judge Niblack ruled that William Connelly, 25, Indianapolis, was "well within his right on all three points," and denied Mrs. Martha E. Connelly, 19, her petition for divorce.

PREFER BLONDE?

It's easy to obtain the new popular blonde finish on unfinished furniture. Open-grained woods—oak, mahogany, walnut—will need a paste wood-filler. This will not be necessary for close-grained woods—pine, maple, gum and birch. Coat all surfaces with lead mixing oil. Let dry. Apply white enamel. Let stand a few minutes, then wipe the enamel off with a soft cloth until the wood grain is visible. When dry, finish with varnish or wax.

We have everything you'll need to refinish your old furniture—and for new unpainted pieces. Enamels, varnishes, stains—and the proper equipment for applying them.

'Torpid' Seen Poor Name For Favorite in Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The greatest misnomer ever handed a harness horse is "torpid."

The dictionary defines "torpid" as: "having lost motion, or the power of exertion; dormant; numb; lacking in energy or vim; inert; dull; stupid; apathetic."

But Torpid, amazing son of Knigh Dream and odds-on favorite to capture the 12th annual Little Brown Jug for three-year-olds pacers here Sept. 19, is the antithesis of the entire definition.

The bay colt, owned by Max Hochberg's Sherwood Farm of Irvington, N. J., and trained and driven by 38-year-old Johnny Simpson of North Carolina who recently piloted Hickory Smoke to victory in the Hambletonian trotting classic, has a string of 28 victories going.

Last season, when he was voted the 2-year-old pacer of the year, Torpid won 17, placed once and was out of the money once in 19 starts as he picked up $73,376. This year he's won 16 in a row, and makes his next start Thursday in the $20,000 Brown Jug Trial at Detroit's Hazel Park.

As a two-year-old Torpid was the fastest of his age in history with a 1:38 mile at Lexington, Ky.; won the $34,415 Fox pace at Indianapolis in 1:59 4-5; shared the world record over a half-mile track at 2:02 3-5.

This year he has a world record of 2:09 1-5 for a mile and a sixteen; tied the world record of 2 minutes flat over a two-mile around, equalled Billy Direct's 1:58 mile mark which had stood since 1937, has added wins at Sportsman's Park, the Illinois State Fair, the Du Quoin, Ill. Fair, and last week took the $20,000 Horseman Futurity at the Indiana State Fair, going the first heat in two minutes flat and the second in 1:59 3-5.

It was his eighth mile in two minutes or less for the year, just one under the record held by Single G and set in the 1913-1926 era.

His 1957 efforts have earned him $79,025, boosting his two-year-old purse-snatching total to $152,401.

Simpson, if he drives Torpid to victory in the $70,000 Little Brown Jug, will become the first reinsman to take the classic two years in a row, and the second ever to capture the Hambletonian and the Jug the same season. Del Miller beat him to the latter honor by winning the 1950 Hambletonian with Lusty Song and the "Jug" with Handover.

Around the half-mile track at the Delaware County fairgrounds the horsemen figure this year's Jug is a race for second place. No one has even a hazy hunch that anything in the field can get in ahead of Torpid.

Although 65 3-year-old sidewheelers are still eligible, those paying the $500 starting fee could range all the way from 7 to 17. If the entry reaches the last figure the field will be split into two sections, with at least 10 horses sharing the pot of gold. If 16 or under go, all will start at the same time.

The probable starters, in addition to Torpid, include Adios Express, only pacer in the field to hold a win over the red-hot favorite, Cheyenne Goose. Great Adios, Meadow Rhythm, Meadow Lands, Newport Ali, Newport Judy, Newport Duke, Rapid Goose, Razzle Dazzle and Sunny Byrd.

The starting fee is due Tuesday Sept. 17.

Cuban Armed Forces Getting Close Check

Ponies Start Football Practice

THE MARKSMEN, one of the five teams in the pony football program here, got some instructions from their coaches their first evening out in uniform. But the talk only preceded the workout in store for the youngsters. Coach Gene Sagar is left and coach Emman (Fat) Lynch is right. Another coach, Bill Carson was not present. First row, left to right: Dan Preston, Mark Frederick, Joe Brickles, Donnie Wilson, Mike Whiteside, Dick Schue and Bob Rayburn. Second row, left to right: Gary Burris, Ronnie Jones, Ernie Wilson, Gary Justice, Dan Fitzpatrick, Kenneth Blade and Dan Wolford. Third row, left to right: Mike Woods, Stephen Terrell, Bob Jones, John Wood and Kent Riggs. Meanwhile, the other four teams were getting their instructions at other practice fields. The Marksmen were the only boys out in uniforms the first night, however; the coaches explained the boys were anxious to show them off and they (the coaches) wanted to see how they fit. This Is Week Yankees Win Or Lose Flag

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This is the week the New York Yankees "win" the 1957 American League pennant for a fourth time—or perhaps lose it for good. It's also a week in which the National League race could tighten because Milwaukee's first-place Braves are loose.

Everyone knew the Yankees had done it again when they took three of four from the Chicago White Sox in late June.

In short, the Yankees won the flag June 23.

Trouble was, the White Sox didn't die. By the middle of July they were just two games back after beating the Yankees in the first game of a double-header at Chicago. But the Sox blew the nightcap and that did it.

In short, the Yankees won the flag July 14.

Trouble was, the White Sox didn't die. They were just 3½ games behind by late August and the Yankees were in a slump. So the Yankees "slumped" to a three-game sweep for a 6½-game bulge.

In short, the Yankees won the flag on Aug. 29.

Trouble was, the White Sox didn't die. Fact is, it's the Yankees who are being checked for signs of life these days after losing 6 of 11 since that "clenching" sweep at Chicago.

With the White Sox, now 5½ back, due for a two-game set at Yankee Stadium this weekend, it appears Manager Casey Stengel is through playing cat and mouse.

Of Case wanted Sal Maglie and the Yankee dollar got him from Brooklyn to help a pitching staff that at the moment has managed only three complete games in the last 21. But with sore-arm Whitey Ford apparently back in shape, things look good enough on the mound and Stengel has turned to strengthening his "unbeatable" bench.

Mickey Mantle is out of the hospital, but still uncertain because of shin splints, Yogi Berra is out with a bruised and swollen, but not broken, right thumb, and Hank Bauer's cracked thumb is on the mend. So the Yankees have picked up a pair of out-felder-pinch hitters in Bobby Del Greco, the good-field-no-hit kid from Pittsburgh via St. Louis, Chicago and Montreal, and John (Zeke) Bella, who hit .309 at Denver.

Both will be on hand tonight when the Yankees open their last home stand against the West with Cleveland. The White Sox, who play 14 of their remaining 19 games on the road while the Yankees play 13 of their 16 at home, are at Boston tonight.

In the NL, Milwaukee and second-place St. Louis make their final stands against the East with the Braves insisting "we're not feeling any pressure" in answer to queries on how they managed to lose three games from their 8½-game Labor Day lead.

The Braves play Pittsburgh tonight while the Cardinals, with Stan Musial still sidelined because his ailing shoulder tightened up after a pinch-hit job Sunday, meet Philadelphia. The Dodgers, seven games back, are at Chicago.

U. S., China Near Reporter Swap Plan

HONG KONG (AP) — The United States has opened the way for an exchange of reporters with Communist China and the matter "is now up to the Chinese government," Undersecretary of State Christian Herter said today.

The positions of the United States and of Red China on reciprocity in admitting newsmen are not far apart, Herter said.

When the State Department first announced U. S. reporters could go into China, Secretary Dulles said he would not permit Chinese newsmen to go to America. This policy apparently is being changed.

Federal Farm Agency Said 'Dangerous'

TOLEDO (AP) — The president of the Chicago Board of Trade calls the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) a threat to the "continued existence of the entire agricultural marketing structure of this country."

Robert C. Liebenow spoke Monday at a session of the 61st annual convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Assn. on the topic: "CCC—Comedy, Confusion and Competition."

He called for "forceful and effective" legislation to eliminate "once and for all government interference in our business." He added that, in his opinion, "peaceful coexistence with CCC has long since slipped quietly by."

"The question to me, he said, "is how long will it be before CCC virtually takes over the entire free corn market. Their prediction for next year's corn sales means they will be handling more than two-thirds of the corn merchandising business in this country. How can our marketing machine continue to function under these conditions?"

'Torpid' Seen Poor Name For Favorite in Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio — The greatest misnomer ever handed a harness horse is "torpid." The dictionary defines "torpid" as: "having lost motion, or the power of exertion; dormant; numb; lacking in energy or vim; inert; dull; stupid; apathetic."

But Torpid, amazing son of Knight Dream and odds-on favorite to capture the 12th annual Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers here Sept. 19, is the antithesis of the entire definition.

The bay colt, owned by Max Hochberg's Sherwood Farm of Irvington, N. J., and trained and driven by 38-year-old Johnny Simp-

THE MARKSMEN, one of the five teams in the pony football program here, got some instructions from their coaches their first evening out in uniform. But the talk only preceded the workout in store for the youngsters. Coach Gene Sagar is left and coach Emun (Fat) Lynch is right. Another coach, Bill Carson was not present. First row, left to right: Dan Preston, Mark Frederick, Joe Bricks, Donnie Wilson, Mike Whiteside, Dick Schlus and Bob Rayburn. Second row, left to right: Gary Burris, Ronnie Jones, Ernie Wilson, Gary Justice, Dan Fitzpatrick, Kenneth Blade and Dan Wolford. Third row, left to right: Mike Woods, Stephen Terrell, Bob Jones, John Wood and Kent Riggs. Meanwhile, the other four teams were getting their instructions at other practice fields. The Marksmen were the only boys out in uniforms the first night, however; the coaches explained the boys were anxious to show them off and they (the coaches) wanted to see how they fit. Federal Farm Agency Said 'Dangerous'

TOLEDO — The president of the Chicago Board of Trade calls the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) a threat to the "continued existence of the entire agricultural marketing structure of this country."

Robert C. Liebenow spoke Monday at a session of the 61st annual convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Assn. on the topic: "CCC—Comedy, Confusion and Competition."

He called for "forceful and effective" legislation to eliminate "once and for all government interference in our business." He added that, in his opinion, "peaceful coexistence with CCC has long since slipped quietly by."

"The question to me, he said, 'is how long will it be before CCC virtually takes over the entire free corn market. Their prediction for next year's corn sales means they will be handling more than two-thirds of the corn merchandising business in this country. How can our marketing machine continue to function under these conditions?'"

Sleep Sickness Kills 13

SEOUL — Thirteen persons, mostly children, have died of sleeping sickness since an outbreak two weeks ago in four southern provinces of South Korea.

Greeks Show Concern Over U. S. Arms Lift

ATHENS — Greek officials showed concern today that Greece might become involved in the Middle East crisis because its airfields are used in the U. S. arms airlift. Under the 1953 U. S.-Greek agreement on military facilities, U. S. armed forces have the right to enter Greece and fly over its territory.

Technical Talks Due

CLEVELAND — Some 25,000 visitors are expected here this week for the technical conferences and exhibits of the Instrument Society of America. The convention opened Monday and ends Friday.

NEW ROMANTIC TEAM—Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr provide the romantic interest in "An Affair To Remember," which comes to the Fayette Theater here next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Arkansas Governor Draws Line on State-Federal Power

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—If the federal government, moves into Arkansas by force or in any other manner to limit the power of the governor "we will have lost our last right of local self-govern- ment," Gov. Orval Faubus says.

The governor thus drew a sharp line between states rights and federal authority which he is chal- lenging in the Little Rock integra- tion case.

"If blood is then shed, my con- science will be clear, but I will weep for my people," the govern- or said in a speech delivered over television Monday.

He said given the opportunity "We can accomplish an orderly and non-violent integration of our public schools in this state."

The governor also said U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies of North Dakota has appeared "high-hand- ed and arbitrary" in dealing with the Little Rock integration prob- lem.

In his speech, Faubus said he wanted to review the actions of the North Dakota judge "who ar- rived here only a few days ago. He has had three hearings on this matter. . . 1 hour and 24 minutes was the total time consumed in all three hearings, on a matter so important—a matter in which the peace and good order of the com- munity is involved, as well as the lives and property of its citizens."

Judge Davies, filling a vacant Arkansas federal district bench temporarily, has twice ruled that integration must begin "forthwith" and once denied the school board's request that his integration order be postponed to allow tension to ease.

Davies, in effect, told the school board to go ahead with a plan of gradual integration which pre- viously had been upheld by a fed- eral appeals court.

The governor said his actions were "to protect the Negro as well as the white children and to avoid a very clear and present danger of a race riot. . ." He said he knew Arkansas Negroes would quickly forget the part he had played in their progress in the state and knew he would be con- demned by their leaders "even though I acted in their interest."

Faubus said "maybe Negro leaders and white integrationist leaders and even Federal Judge Davies are willing to sacrifice the lives of a certain number of peo- ple in this community in order to take one more step toward final and complete integration. . . Let that be their philosophy, it is not mine. The price is too high and the danger too great."

U. N. Asked Study Hungarian Setup

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Thirty-six nations today called on the U. N. Assembly to place the Hungarian problem in the hands of a prominent world figure with authority to seek a solution.

The new plan was sponsored by the United States and 35 other countries from all parts of the world. The resolution strongly con- demned the refusal of the Soviet government and the regim. of Hungarian Red leader Janos Kadar to heed previous U. N. ap- peals. It urged them to "desist from repressive measures against the Hungarian people."

The hydrogen bomb was advanced in 1954 from the experimental stage to the status of a usable weapon capable of destroying a big city.

St. Marys Plant Sold To Cleveland Outfit

CLEVELAND — Hannifin Corp. of Des Plaines, Ill., employer of 600 persons there and in a plant at St. Marys, has been purchased by Parker Appliance Co. of Cleveland. Hannifin manufactures hydraulic and air power cylinders, presses and components. Parker, which makes products to control or confine the flow of liquids or gases under pressure, employs 2,200 at seven plants in Ohio, Kentucky and California.

Ore Shipments Hiked

CLEVELAND — The American Iron Ore Assn. reported today that iron ore shipments from upper Great Lakes ports in the week ended Monday morning were 2,720,994 tons, an increase of 104,707 tons over 1956.

Cincy's United Appeal Quota Hiked 6.7 Pct.

CINCINNATI — Volunteer workers have opened the 1958 United Appeal fund raising campaign in the Cincinnati area with a goal of $5,480,066. The campaign runs through Oct. 30. The fund-raising goal this year for the area, which is made up of Hamilton and Clermont counties in Ohio and Kenton, Boone and Campbell counties in Kentucky, is 6.7 per cent greater than last year.

The first box bed spring in the United States was imported from France in 1857.

St. Marys Plant Sold To Cleveland Outfit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hannifin Corp. of Des Plaines, Ill., employer of 600 persons there and in a plant at St. Marys, has been purchased by Parker Appliance Co. of Cleveland. Hannifin manufactures hydraulic and air power cylinders, presses and components. Parker, which makes products to control or confine the flow of liquids or gases under pressure, employs 2,200 at seven plants in Ohio, Kentucky and California.

Ore Shipments Hiked

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Iron Ore Assn. reported today that iron ore shipments from upper Great Lakes ports in the week ended Monday morning were 2,720,994 tons, an increase of 104,707 tons over 1956.

Cincy's United Appeal Quota Hiked 6.7 Pct.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Volunteer workers have opened the 1958 United Appeal fund raising campaign in the Cincinnati area with a goal of $5,480,066. The campaign runs through Oct. 30. The fund-raising goal this year for the area, which is made up of Hamilton and Clermont counties in Ohio and Kenton, Boone and Campbell counties in Kentucky, is 6.7 per cent greater than last year.

The first box bed spring in the United States was imported from France in 1857.

All Ohio Pork Picnic Plans Are Polished Up

The committee in charge of the All Ohio Pork Producers Picnic which is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 14 at the Fairground here, will be prepared to serve 1,500 people a ham dinner with all the accessories. This was decided at the committee meeting Monday night at the Farm Bureau auditorium.

A major change of policy concerning the Pork Picnic is that tickets for the dinner may be purchased the remainder of this week up until Saturday noon. The previous deadline was last Monday. However, the committee felt that as many people as possible should be permitted to attend and that many were unable to decide a week in advance if they could be present.

One feature of the picnic is a tractor tipping demonstration, starting at 10 a. m. in front of the grandstand. Agricultural engineers from Ohio State University will have a tractor, which is remotely controlled, go through several demonstrations stressing the need for safety.

AN EVENT which should provide a lot of fun is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. It will be a greased pig contest in which all boys currently enrolled in the 4-H and vocational agriculture programs are eligible to participate. The contest will be divided into five divisions according to age. Individual purebred and state breed organizations have donated five purebred pigs that will be given to the winners of the contest.

Pigs donated included a Duroc by Robert Owens of Jeffersonville, Chester White by Paul Shepard of Route 5, a Hampshire by the Ohio Hampshire Assn., a Landrace by the Ohio Landrace Assn. and a Yorkshire by the Ohio Yorkshire Club. The Landrace will come from the herd of C. C. Terrell of New Vienna and the Yorkshire from the herd of David Carr, Route 4.

The greased pig contest will be judged by A. B. Evans, a Hampshire breeder from Cedarville, and Robert Snyder of Wilmington. Evans is president of the Ohio Swine Improvement Assn. Snyder is president of the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn. Pigs from the union and Producers stockyards will be greased for the contest. The winners will draw numbers to determine the order of selection of purebred gilts.

Another feature will be the crowning of the All Ohio Pork Queen. Entries in the contest have been received from Sharon Rogers, Greene County; Rita Fisher, Fairfield County; Phillis Kersh, Hancock County; Patty Fisher, Warren County; Karen Sears, Montgomery County. Gloria Cleland of near Bloomingburg will represent Fayette County.

Contests were conducted in each county to select the girls who are entered in the final event. The queen will be given an all expense trip to the Chicago International Livestock Exposition in December. The judges for the queen contest are Mary Lou Pfeiffer, Worthington, and George Ziess, Columbus.

KEITH E. MYERS, secretary of the National Swine Council, will be the afternoon speaker. Myers, working out of Grundy Center, Ia., is a former agricultural extension agent and presently is directly responsible for increasing the sale of pork products for the Swine Council.

At least 25 commercial displays of hog equipment and manufactured products will be exhibited, according to Howard McDonald, chairman in charge of the exhibits. Following the afternoon program, a number of these articles and supplies will be donated for auction to the highest bidder.

There were 81 at the Monday committee meeting, which was presided over by A. R. Rankin, general chairman. David Carr acted as secretary. Among those present were 40 women from home demonstration clubs in the city and county who have volunteered to help serve the lunch.

Tickets for this event may be purchased from the swine directors in each township and at the county extension office.

Those from out-of-the-county at this meeting were Herbert Barnes and Wilbur Bruner, extension swine specialists, Ohio State University; Robert Havener, meats specialist, Ohio State University; Robert Snyder of Wilmington, Homer Watts of Highland County, Stanley Hetzler of Greene County, and Howard Dorn of London.

Two Cars Collide But No One Hurt

No one was injured and damage was moderate in an accident on Route 22 three miles east of here about 6:45 p. m. Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson said the mishap occurred when an auto driven by Larry Johnson, 16, of 918 Millwood Ave., tried to negotiate a left turn, at the same time a car driven by Hubert Orland Long, 44, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., tried to pass him.

The left side of Johnson's car and the right front fender of Long's were damaged. Johnson said he had signalled, but Long said he hadn't seen it.

14 New Parking Meters Installed; Total 530 Now

City manager James F. Parkinson announced Tuesday that 14 new parking meters had been installed on the south side of Market St. west of Hinde St.

Current plans, he announced, call for no more meters to be installed this year.

During the year only nine other new meters have been installed, bringing the number now in use to 530, Parkinson said.

Five Indicted By Grand Jury

Five indictments were handed down, two cases dismissed, and two cases continued by the grand jury during its one-day session Monday.

Indictments were returned against Albert Williams for second degree manslaughter; Pearl Bennett for uttering and publishing a check; Raymond Falls for forgery; Robert Joe Porter for operation of a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; and Fred A. Mordock for burglary. Arraignments were set for Friday at 9:30 a. m.

No indictments were returned against Thomas J. Buzzard, who had been charged with writing a check with insufficient funds, nor against Sarah R. Bellar, who had been charged with operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

Continued were cases against Marvin V. Herzog and Earl Curtis Muse, both charged with operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

In reporting its inspection visit to the county jail, the grand jury reported that it found that no provisions of the court, or law, were being violated.

Three Fined In Court; Nine Forfeit Bonds

Two game law violators, one traffic offender and one intoxicated pleaded guilty before Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal court Tuesday.

Fined $100 and costs for illegal possession of game birds was Virgil Bowman, 25, of Staunton. Clara Fisher, 20, of Cincinnati, was fined $15 and costs, the fine suspended, for fishing without a license.

Fined $5 and costs for driving with a defective muffler was Harry McNutt, 32, of 1025 Dayton Ave.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance were:

George Guckenberger, 60, Cincinnati, speeding, $30;
Raymond Preston, 43, Lucasville, running a red light, $15;

Hugh Rea, 40, 914 Pearl St., running a stop sign $15;

Three Men Injured When Pickup Truck Hits Utility Pole

Three Columbus men were injured and a Dayton Power, & Light Co. utility pole snapped off when steering mechanism on a 1957 pickup truck went bad about 4:35 p. m. Monday.

Taken to the emergency room at Memorial Hospital here were:

Joseph Letaster, 25, treated for abrasions of the leg;

Joseph Lus, 57, treated for a cut elbow and abrasions of the leg; and

Aristide Centofante, 50, treated for chest injury and leg abrasions.

All three were riding in the cab of the pickup truck when it left the CCC highway about three miles east, broke down some farm fencing and smashed into the DP&L pole.

Letaster, the driver, said he lost control of the truck when steering mechanism failed.

DP&L officials said there was "no major disturbance" to power service by the mishap.

Mt. Zion School Association Holds 25th--and Last--Reunion

An unusual association of former classmates closed its record books Sunday when the 25th annual--and final --Mt. Zion School reunion was held at the Fairground.

It was a pleasant occasion devoted to visiting and reminiscing, but when Ford Ervin rose to pronounce the benediction the reverent silence had more than the usual meaning--for it had been agreed that there will be no more reunions. There aren't many left of the once numerous Mt. Zion alumni, and eight have died in the past year.

There were less than 30 at Sunday's last gathering.

The Mt. Zion School was erected in 1859 on Jamison Rd., 1 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H. For many years it was known as Burnett School, but the name was changed in the 1880's when Sunday School classes were held there.

MT. ZION was abandoned in 1918 and the building was torn down a few years later.

Like many another one-room school, it was doomed by the centralization program, and its place was taken by the present Chaffin School.

In fact, the bell from Mt. Zion was installed in the then-new Chaffin building.

According to existing records, Horton McClelland was the first teacher at Mt. Zion which at one time had more than 60 pupils--many of them from the nearby Jonesboro community which was part of what was then known as District 3.

A minister, a lawyer, a doctor, two college professors and many teachers and businessmen received their early education there.

Arthur Tyree opened the last reunion with prayer, and Miss Lulu Binegar, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the preceding meeting and an original poem by Frank Grubbs. There were remarks by Walter McLean, president of the

Rain Not Too Little But It Is Too Late

The 1.32 inches of rain that fell on Washington C. H. and Fayette County Monday night and up to noon Tuesday will help the lawns and the pastures--but it's too late to do much for the parched corn and soybean crops.

Soybean harvesting--some of it is already underway. Yields have been better than expected, but still not up to par.

And, with corn picking about to get underway, the rain won't make much difference, Phil Grover, associate county agent, said. "It's not too little, but it's too late," Grover commented.

But, for fall pastures and lawns, it will do a lot of good. Folks who have watched their lawns turn yellow and die may have one last chance at seeing them green between now and the first cold weather.

The immediate forecast for more rain in the next 24 hours won't hurt, either, Grover said. Unless the corn and soybean harvests are delayed by soft ground too long.

The contest will be divided into five divisions according to age. Individual purebred and state breed organizations have donated five purebred pigs that will be given to the winners of the contest.

Pigs donated included a Duroc by Robert Owens of Jeffersonville, Chester White by Paul Shepard of Route 5, a Hampshire by the Ohio Hampshire Assn., a Landrace by the Ohio Landrace Assn. and a Yorkshire by the Ohio Yorkshire Club. The Landrace will come from the herd of C. C. Terrell of New Vienna and the Yorkshire from the herd of David Carr, Route 4.

The greased pig contest will be judged by A. B. Evans, a Hampshire breeder from Cedarville, and Robert Snyder of Wilmington. Evans is president of the Ohio Swine Improvement Assn. Snyder is president of the Ohio Commercial Swine Producers Assn. Pigs from the union and Producers stockyards will be greased for the contest. The winners will draw numbers to determine the order of selection of purebred gilts.

Another feature will be the crowning of the All Ohio Pork Queen. Entries in the contest have been received from Sharon Rogers, Greene County; Rita Fisher, Fairfield County; Phillis Kersh, Hancock County; Patty Fisher, Warren County; Karen Sears, Montgomery County; Gloria Cleland of near Bloomingburg will represent Fayette County.

Contests were conducted in each county to select the girls who are entered in the final event. The queen will be given an all expense trip to the Chicago International Livestock Exposition in December. The judges for the queen contest are Mary Lou Pfeiffer, Worthington, and George Ziess, Columbus.

KEITH E. MYERS, secretary of the National Swine Council, will be the afternoon speaker. Myers, working out of Grundy Center, Ia., is a former agricultural extension agent and presently is directly responsible for increasing the sale of pork products for the Swine Council.

At least 25 commercial displays of hog equipment and manufactured products will be exhibited, according to Howard McDonald, chairman in charge of the exhibits. Following the afternoon program, a number of these articles and supplies will be donated for auction to the highest bidder.

There were 81 at the Monday committee meeting, which was presided over by A. R. Rankin, general chairman. David Carr acted as secretary. Among those present were 40 women from home demonstration clubs in the city and county who have volunteered to help serve the lunch.

Tickets for this event may be purchased from the swine directors in each township and at the county extension office.

Those from out-of-the-county at this meeting were Herbert Barnes and Wilbur Bruner, extension swine specialists, Ohio State University; Robert Haveren, meats specialist, Ohio State University; Robert Snyder of Wilmington, Homer Watts of Highland County, Stanley Hetzler of Greene County, and Howard Dorn of London.

Two Cars Collide But No One Hurt

No one was injured and damage was moderate in an accident on Route 22 three miles east of here about 6:45 p. m. Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson said the mishap occurred when an auto driven by Larry Johnson, 16, of 918 Millwood Ave., tried to negotiate a left turn, at the same time a car driven by Hubert Orland Long, 44, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., tried to pass him.

The left side of Johnson's car and the right front fender of Long's were damaged. Johnson said he had signalled, but Long said he hadn't seen it.

14 New Parking Meters Installed; Total 530 Now

City manager James F. Parkinson announced Tuesday that 14 new parking meters had been installed on the south side of Market St. west of Hinde St.

Current plans, he announced, call for no more meters to be installed this year.

During the year only nine other new meters have been installed, bringing the number now in use to 530, Parkinson said.

The roots of the licorice plant often reach 20 to 25 feet below the surface before they are dug up to make candy and seasoning.

Five Indicted By Grand Jury

Five indictments were handed down, two cases dismissed, and two cases continued by the grand jury during its one-day session Monday.

Indictments were returned against Albert Williams for second degree manslaughter; Pearl Bennett for uttering and publishing a check; Raymond Fallis for forgery; Robert Joe Porter for operation of a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; and Fred A. Muddock for burglary. Arraignments were set for Friday at 9:30 a. m.

No indictments were returned against Thomas J. Buzzard, who had been charged with writing a check with insufficient funds, nor against Sarah R. Bellar, who had been charged with operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

Continued were cases against Marvin V. Herzog and Earl Curtis Muse, both charged with operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

In reporting its inspection visit to the county jail, the grand jury reported that it found that no provisions of the court, or law, were being violated.

Three Men Injured When Pickup Truck Hits Utility Pole

Three Columbus men were injured and a Dayton Power & Light Co. utility pole snapped off when steering mechanism on a 1957 pickup truck went bad about 4:35 p. m. Monday.

Taken to the emergency room at Memorial Hospital here were:

Joseph Letaster, 25, treated for abrasions of the leg;

Joseph Lus, 57, treated for a cut elbow and abrasions of the leg; and

Aristide Centofante, 50, treated for chest injury and leg abrasions.

All three were riding in the cab of the pickup truck when it left the CCC highway about three miles east, broke down some farm fencing and smashed into the DP&L pole.

Letaster, the driver, said he lost control of the truck when steering mechanism failed.

DP&L officials said there was "no major disturbance" to power service by the mishap.

Mt. Zion School Association Holds 25th--and Last--Reunion

An unusual association of former classmates closed its record books Sunday when the 25th annual--and final--Mt. Zion School reunion was held at the Fairground.

It was a pleasant occasion devoted to visiting and reminiscing, but when Ford Ervin rose to pronounce the benediction the reverent silence had more than the usual meaning--for it had been agreed that there will be no more reunions. There aren't many left of the once numerous Mt. Zion alumni, and eight have died in the past year.

There were less than 30 at Sunday's last gathering.

The Mt. Zion School was erected in 1859 on Jamison Rd. 1 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H. For many years it was known as Burnett School, but the name was changed in the 1880's when Sunday School classes were held there.

MT. ZION was abandoned in 1918 and the building was torn down a few years later.

Like many another one-room school, it was doomed by the centralization program, and its place was taken by the present Chaffin School.

In fact, the bell from Mt. Zion was installed in the then-new Chaffin building.

According to existing records, Horton McClelland was the first teacher at Mt. Zion which at one time had more than 60 pupils--many of them from the nearby Jonesboro community which was part of what was then known as District 3.

A minister, a lawyer, a doctor, two college professors and many teachers and businessmen received their early education there.

Arthur Tyree opened the last reunion with prayer, and Miss Lulu Binegar, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the preceding meeting and on original poem by Frank Grubbs. There were remarks by Walter McLean, president of the

Rain Not Too Little But It Is Too Late

The 1.32 inches of rain that fell on Washington C. H. and Fayette County Monday night and up to noon Tuesday will help the lawns and the pastures--but it's too late to do much for the parched corn and soybean crops.

Soybean harvesting--some of it is already underway. Yields have been better than expected, but still not up to par.

And, with corn picking about to get underway, the rain won't make much difference, Phil Grover, associate county agent, said.

"It's not too little, but it's too late," Grover commented.

But, for fall pastures and lawns, it will do a lot of good. Folks who have watched their lawns turn yellow and die may have one last chance at seeing them green between now and the first cold weather.

And the pastures, just getting started, will get a big boost from the weather.

The immediate forecast for more rain in the next 24 hours won't hurt, either, Grover said... unless the corn and soybean harvests are delayed by soft ground too long.
